CENTENNIAL IS GREATEST OF CELEBRATIONS

Plans Are Taking Concrete Form—Big Week Is Assured

Arrangements for Dixon's greatest celebration — its Centennial and Home Coming—the 22nd, 23rd, and 24th of next month, are beginning to assume concrete form and the committees expect to have some details ready for announcement within a few days.

It has been decided to devote Monday, the first day, to the ceremonies attendant the dedication of the Dixon Airport, Tuesday will be given over to the program of dedication of the Peoria Avenue Memorial Bridge, and Wednesday, the final day, will mark the dedication of the Lincoln Statue, to be erected on the state park, North Hennepin Ave. and Water Street, the site of the old block Fort Dixon where Lincoln served as a private and a captain of the United States Army in the Black hawk campaign.

The Dixon fort and the Gettysburg battlefield are the only points on the transcontinental Lincoln Highway with which the great martyred President had actual contact. Further details of the program of dedication of the statue will be announced later.

The committee in charge of the Peoria Avenue Memorial Bridge dedication is making elaborate plans for that fete, the second day of the Centennial-Homecoming. A speaker of national repute, one connected with the military forces of the nation, is being sought, and in this quest the committee is being assisted by Congressman William R. Johnson of Freeport, who has assured the Dixonites a man of outstanding fame will be secured.

A parade of military organizations, including anything ever seen in northern Illinois is also being planned as one feature of the bridge dedication, and there will be other items, to be announced later.

The finance committee, which has met with fine success in its early solicitation of funds for the celebration, will meet this evening to block out the entire city for a systematic and concerted campaign to raise a big amount which will make possible a celebration as momentous as the 100th birthday of a prosperous, beautiful growing community deserves. In this campaign every citizen of Dixon will be given an opportunity to contribute.

Washington, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Establishment of local credit corporations to act as intermediaries between drought stricken farmers and intermediate credit banks was formally approved today by banking representatives of relief committees of more than a dozen states.

The conference convened yesterday at the White House and met today with Secretary Hyde, chairman of the national drought relief committee. It adjourned immediately after approving the plan, which will be submitted to President Hoover and to governors of the affected states.

Under the approved plan, which was proposed by the National committee, local credit corporations would be created to advance loans to farmers through the intermediate credit banks established wherever necessary.

Fumigator Endangers Helpless Patients

Passaic, N. J., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Chemical fumes from a fumigator in a ward which had been vacated for disinfection spread through St. Mary's hospital here today imperiling the lives of 65 bedridden patients. All the patients were moved from the gassed ward, half of them being placed in the hospital yard and the rest in a new wing of the building into which the gas did not penetrate.

LINDBERGH BEACON, THE WORLD'S MOST BRILLIANT LIGHT, WILL BE ILLUMINATED AT 9 THIS EVENING

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(UP)—President Hoover will press a button in the White House at Washington at 9 P. M. today to light the world's most brilliant air beacon, which towers nearly 700 feet above the ground on the roof of the Palmolive building here.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, for whom the beacon has been named, was invited to attend the dedicatory ceremonies here but it was unknown

Hoople Suggests You Try Dropping That Safe and Pin to See Which Will Hit the Ground First

"For thirty days' work, which would your rather receive—? Pardonnez moi — we're getting ahead of the parade."

That happens to be part of one of the "HOOPERS" that appears in the "OUR BOARDING HOUSE" comic today—and you can so easily turn to the comic page and see if you can solve a couple more of Major Hoople's right-out-of-his-own-brain queries.

In the meantime, did you work out the answers to yesterday's "HOOPERS"? And, if so, do your answers tally with the Major's? Here they are:

QUESTION 1: What makes a sun ray warmer, passing through a cake of ice?

ANSWER: Nothing does—because it doesn't get warmer. And besides, why waste the ice in this kind of weather?

QUESTION 2: Which will strike the ground first, falling from a height of 10 feet, a pin or a safe?

ANSWER: "I'm answering this question, kind friends," said the Major, "I must ask you to go back with me to the days of Aristotle and Galileo. Mr. Aristotle believed that if two bodies of the same substance fell from the same height, the heavier body would hit the earth first. That principle was considered correct for 1000 years or until Mr. Galileo came along. The leaning tower of Pisa had already started to lean, so Mr. Galileo went to the top of it with two objects, one weighing about 10 pounds and the other one pound. He dropped them and to the amazement of Mr. Aristotle's disciples, the two objects hit the ground at the same time.

"Mr. Galileo said that, except for a light article being resisted, only slightly more by the air than a heavy article—on account of its relatively greater surface—all bodies fall at the same rate. The rate of fall is not in proportion to the weight. In a vacuum, the rate of fall is precisely the same.

"This is still a principle of physics and, therefore, I am able to advise you that the safe and the pin would hit the ground at approximately the same time if dropped from a height of 10 feet. Try it yourself, some time."

QUESTION 3: If you point in any direction at the north pole, what direction would it be?

ANSWER: South.

UNPRECEDENTED HEAT WAVE HIT EUROPE'S COAST

British Isles, To Africa Record Temperatures Are Reached

London, Aug. 27.—(UP)—A heat wave that hourly became more severe spread over the British Isles, parts of Europe and the African coast today with the breaking of the recent period of cold summer weather.

London experienced the hottest night ever recorded for the last week in August after a maximum temperature of 88 degrees yesterday.

Today the sun burned the city again, driving the mercury up to 84 in the shade this morning and promising to increase the temperature steadily throughout the afternoon.

Holiday-makers, convinced that the recent cold weather would continue, were caught at resorts with only heavy clothing and many were forced to curtail their vacations. Swimming pools were crowded so early at 6 A. M., particularly Lansbury Lido in Hyde Park where many stenographers could be seen leaving for offices clad in light frocks over their bathing costumes.

Army maneuvers in Surrey were suspended in mid-battle due to the intense heat.

London, Aug. 27.—(UP)—The British tradition of never discarding vest, or even coat, was overcome when the temperature increased to 88 degrees in the shade at 1 P. M.

Stockbrokers in shirt-sleeves, but still wearing their top hats, astonished the business section of the city, just as the classical concert at Queen's Hall last night was marked by the doffing of coats by patrons who had gathered to hear Tchaikovsky's fifth symphony.

Paris, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Parts of Europe were suffering today under a heat wave similar to the recent period of high temperature in the United States.

The temperature in Paris was 95 degrees Fahrenheit after a long period of cold, rainy weather, and the thermometer rose, above 102 in the Seine valley.

As a result of three-months rain, the French wheat crop is damaged and the harvest far below the needs of the people, but the present sunshine was expected to benefit greatly the sugar beet crop, which promised to be unusually fine.

Ben Guerir, Morocco, Aug. 27.—(UP)—The sun-blasted village of Ben Guerir, said by desert tribesmen to be the hottest place in Africa, recorded a temperature of 131 degrees Fahrenheit at 11 A. M. today, setting a new summer record.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Aug. 27.—(UP)—The Treasury balance on August 25 was $114,451,937.46. Expenditures for the same day were $2,338,808.99 and customs receipts for the month to that date were $26,316,447.98.

Korean leprosy was not affected by the drought in Kentucky.

MAN AND FIANCEE FOUND MURDERED ON PACIFIC BEACH

Mutilated Bodies Discovered Near Tent In Lower California

Ensenada, Lower Calif., Mexico, Aug. 27.—(UP)—A motive for the brutal slaying of Francis Conlon, 24, Monrovia, Calif., business man and his fiancée Lois Marion Kentle, Los Angeles sorority girl, was sought by Mexican and American authorities today.

The bodies of the couple stabbed to death by an unknown assailant, were found on the beach here yesterday. Near the spot were evidences of a camping ground that evidently had been hastily broken up, police said.

There appeared to be no motive for the murders, the American consul at the Lower California resort told the girl's relatives. They apparently were strolling along the beach when their slayer crept upon them.

Mr. and Mrs. John DeWid, of Vista, California, who started for Ensenada with the young couple, were located today by San Diego authorities. They reported that they turned back below Tia Juana on Monday in the belief that Conlon and his fiancée also had returned.

Conlon and the girl were identified by papers found in Conlon's pockets and by a book half buried in the sand. The book was "The

PILOT BURNED TO DEATH BUT OTHERS ESCAPE

Was First Fatality Of Air Races Which Had Start Saturday

By SAM KNOTT

United Press Staff Correspondent
Curtiss-Wright Airport, Chicago, Aug. 27.—(UP)—A Navy pursuit plane flipped over and caught fire at the southeast end of the grand stand while hurtling through space at approximately 150 miles an hour during the National Air Races today.

Lieut. J. P. Deshazo, 28-year-old pilot was removed from the flaming wreckage of his burning plane and died a few minutes later in the airport hospital, the first fatality of the meet which began last Saturday.

The pilot landed the burning pursuit plane at the end of the bleachers in a crowd.

The pilot was caught in the air wash from his companions' propellers as they rounded the home pylon ending a 50-mile race.

The plane was flipped over as it hit the rushing air and dived about 50 feet to the ground.

Hundreds rushed around the burning plane. Only one, however, was reported hit by the blazing ship.

The Navy pilot was going about 150 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

The naval airplane crumpled in a mass of wreckage. The other planes landed immediately and the pilots rushed to the scene, barring the crowd.

The scene of the crash was at the foot of the bleachers, at the southeast end of the grandstand. All the field ambulances, held in readiness for just such an accident, clanged to the spot. The field fire department ran across the field and unlimbered a chemical line, within a few minutes the blaze, which shot 30 feet high, was under control.

From the press box it appeared at first that the plane had crashed into a crowd occupying bleacher seats at the southeast end of the field. Miraculously, however, only one spectator was hurt.

The wreckage of Deshazo's plane burst into flames within a few seconds after it struck. The pilot, however, was not burned. He was pulled out bent double and crushed by the impact.

The 17 planes were just swinging around the home pylon on the last lap of the 50-mile race when Deshazo's plane was caught by the propeller "wash" of the other racing ships.

Rounding the pylon the planes tilted so that their wings were almost perpendicular to the ground. Deshazo's was in this position when the small gale from the plane ahead of him caught his left wing and flipped the plane over. It then shot down at an angle and crumpled up with in view of thousands of the spectators.

Child Jumps In Front of Mower; Legs Gone

Shelbyville, Ill., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Three year old Mary Margaret Shields was believed to have a good chance to live today despite amputation of her legs at the knee as a result of injuries received in playing a prank on her father yesterday.

Mary, daughter of Orville Shields, a farmer at Ridge township, had hid in a field of beans, hoping to spring out and surprise her father who was mowing the field.

She hid directly in the path of the mower and her father did not see her. She was caught in the blades and both legs severed between the knee and ankle. The father brought the child to Shelby Memorial hospital where it was necessary to amputate her legs below the knee in efforts to save her life.

Marathon Cyclers Still Going Strong

Litchfield Ill., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Two marathon cycling teams, one here and the other at Gillespie, near here, were still going strong today in efforts to outlast each other to win the world's cycling marathon championship.

Litchfield's cycling quartet were leading by a comfortable margin at 11 a. m. today with an hourage of 788 as against 713 hours for the Gillespie team.

The previous record for continuous bike riding was 606 hours held by Staunton.

School boys are expected to end the competition Monday when the contestants may have to stop to resume their studies.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ENROLL FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Boundary Lines For Grade School Pupils Also Announced

Friday and Saturday of this week will be given to the registration of students in the Dixon high school who were not registered at the close of the last school year, Sept. 1. B. Potter announced today, preparatory to the opening of the public schools for the 1930-31 term next Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Pupils of whom no registration was taken last spring may register at the new high school building between 2:30 and 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and on Saturday between the hours of 2:30 and 4 P. M. and 7:00 and 8:30 P. M.

Boundary lines for school attendance in the grades have also been announced by the Superintendent. These boundary lines are tentative only so that parents may know where to send their children the first day of school. It will probably be necessary to later make transfers from one school to another in order to equalize the enrollment in the various grades. These tentative boundaries are:

South Side Schools.
First Grade—All first grade pupils living east of the Illinois Central tracks shall attend the Central school. The boundary line for the first grade at the Woodworth school shall be Fourth street and Van Buren avenue. This includes pupils living south of the middle of Fourth street and east of the middle of Van Buren avenue. All first grade pupils living west of the Illinois Central tracks, north of the middle of Fourth street and west of the middle of Van Buren avenue shall attend the Truman school.

Second Grade.—All second grade pupils living east of the center of Peoria avenue shall attend the Central school. The boundary line for the Truman school second grade shall be the same as for the first grade. Pupils living between Peoria avenue and Van Buren avenue shall attend the E. C. Smith school.

Third and Fourth Grade.—All third grade pupils living east of the middle of Peoria avenue shall attend the Central school, and west of College avenue the Woodworth school. Between Peoria avenue and College avenue they shall attend the E. C. Smith school.

Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Grades.—For the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades the Illinois Central tracks shall be the division line. Children east of the tracks in these grades shall attend the South Central school, those west of the tracks shall attend the E. C. Smith school.

North Side Schools.
The Illinois Central tracks up to the north line of Swissville shall be the dividing line. Children east of the tracks and north of the Swissville line shall attend the Central school. All others attend the Loveland school.

These boundary lines in all cases are to be considered as temporary and may be moved to secure equal numbers in the various grades.

Age Regulations.
Any child who is five years of age or who will be five by January 1, 1930, may enter Kindergarten. Any child who is six years of age or who will be six by January 1, 1930, may enter the first grade.

It is necessary to hold fast to this regulation because experience has shown that children who enter younger than this may be unable to carry the prescribed work.

Henry Siegel, Once Famous Merchant, Is Dead In Obscurity

Lakewood, N. J., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Henry Siegel, one time merchant prince of New York and Chicago, died in comparative obscurity here Monday. He was more than 70 years old.

Once a financial leader, business reverses in 1914 left him almost penniless. As president of Siegel Stores Corporation, he once controlled Siegel, Coper & Co., in Chicago; the Big Store, the Fourteenth Street Store and the Simpson-Crawford company in New York and a store in Boston.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT, AGED 17, CONFESSES THREATENING WOMEN WITH DEATH IN EXTORTION PLOT

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Death threats directed at several women upon whom he made extortionate demands for thousands of dollars, were confessed today by Benjamin Markowitz, 17-year-old high school student, when he was trapped by police.

The youth, who had been employed as florist's delivery boy on the south side during his vacation, said that he had selected the names of his employer's wealthiest customers in a scheme to get "some easy money."

Using the wording of extortionists' letters he had read, he wrote threatening notes to half a dozen women. He was captured in the backyard of a residence on Greenwood Avenue where he went to collect $4500 from Mrs. Henry Stein, and $3000 from Mrs. Julian H. Manheimer. He had ordered the two women to drop the money to him over a fence. When police confronted him he fled but halted when several shots were fired.

Young Markowitz' father was Mordecai Markowitz, trucking contractor who was murdered four years ago in a labor dispute.

Sailors Swim Eight Hours To Succor Comrades

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Three haggard men staggered out of the surf today and told a story of how they had been swimming for eight hours after the wreck of the schooner Francis T. with her crew of seven.

The men—John Larre, Clarence Atkinson and Freeman Bonbury—said the schooner sailed out of Hatteras two weeks ago bound for Bermuda.

Patrolman Grant Melvin saw them come stumbling up the sand. He ran over and heard Larre mumble a few words and then all the men pitched forward on their heads, unconscious.

Hot food and medical attention revived them. Ten minutes later a cutter was under steam and heading for the open sea to search for the water-logged Francis T. and the other members of the crew.

It was on Aug. 19, according to Larre, that a storm of hurricane proportions swept the decks of the tiny schooner. Seams began to spread and water seeped into the hold. Reluctant to abandon their cargo, the crew stood by the pumps until last night. In the darkness, 16 miles off shore and in a southerly direction from Atlantic City, the seven men gathered on the deck and decided to send an expedition for aid.

Atkinson, Bonbury and Larre were chosen to take the frail dory and make their way to shore. They said they took the dory through a high running sea for about 11 miles and then a wave caught the small craft and pitched the three men into the sea. Somehow they got together in the darkness, picked their direction and started the long swim for land.

GERMAN FLIERS MAY VISIT THE CHICAGO RACES

Capt. von Gronau First Trans-Atlantic Flyer to Land N. Y. Harbor

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Nine days after their unheralded departure from Germany, Captain Wolfgang von Gronau and his three companions rested here today, having completed the fourth successful crossing of the North Atlantic by airplane.

They landed their Dornier-Wal flying boat off the Battery wall at 2:45 P. M. (EST) yesterday having made the last lap of their flight from Halifax in six hours.

The flight fulfilled for Captain von Gronau, an old dream and gained him the distinction of being the first to land a transatlantic plane in New York harbor.

It was estimated the fliers covered about 4,000 nautical miles in a flying time of 47 hours. Enroute here they stopped in Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Nova Scotia.

A shout from 5,000 throats heralded the plane's arrival. It headed across the tip of Manhattan circled the Statue of Liberty in salute and then came down, landing gracefully about fifty yards from the Aquarium.

Captain von Gronau said he and his companions expected to remain in New York several days and then hoped to visit the air races in Chicago, stopping in Washington.

CHANEY GAVE HIS LAST INTERVIEW
A FEW DAYS AGO

Tells Philosophy Of Life to Ivy Crane Wilson
Of Hollywood

(Editor's Note)—Ivy Crane Wilson, Hollywood writer, interviewed Lon Chaney shortly before his death. What he said is told in the following article UPA Los Angeles.)

BY IVY CRANE WILSON
Written For The United Press
Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 27.—(UP)—

Back of the distorted features which a vast movie public associated with the name of Lon Chaney, lay a kindly philosophy which few who saw him in his grotesque roles knew about.

Chaney granted few interviews. Yet one of his last and probably his longest was given freely, enthusiastically, because it concerned his views on what he called his guiding principles.

The actor revealed a surprising secret back of his repeated roles as a misshapen and frequently hideous victim of man's cruelty—to himself or others. His credo, as he expressed it to me, was:

"I don't know if I have succeeded in leaving this impression with the public, but I play every character with the definite idea that no matter how bad or distorted the man portrayed may be, he is fundamentally good."

"No man is entirely devoid of good. At some moment every criminal murderer and thief has had the word of God on his lips, with an unspoken prayer behind it."

"As for my endeavors to portray good in the hearts of sinful men, I believe that to radiate goodness is the greatest art in the world. If that light finally glows in a sin-scarred heart, so much better the proof of an all-prevailing goodness."

Chaney spoke with sincerity. To that small circle of intimate friends who knew of the actor's perpetual kindness to the unfortunate ones whom he contracted, his view was no surprise.

Much of his huge salary went for charities among the down-and-outers. And most of his time between camera shots was devoted to helping beginners with suggestions about their work.

"God has the same thought for the humble that he holds for his most beautiful works. That's why I keep a hand out to the under-dogs," Chaney said.

"On the movie lots there are always plenty of hands to find a chair for the leading woman. I like to help the tired little extra."

SIMPLE FUNERAL
Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Lon Chaney, filmdom's "man of a thousand faces," will be buried with the same lack of pomp and ceremony that characterized his life, friends and relatives revealed today in announcing plans for his funeral.

The man who reached the pinnacle of motion picture fame through his grotesque characterizations will be buried tomorrow beside the body of his father in Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale. Rev. Michael J. Mullins, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, will officiate at the simple funeral services.

Although Chaney was one of the world's best known actors, he died a comparatively poor man, it was said today. Believing the power of the screen, he had refused to take a story without spoken words, he had refused for many months to enter talking pictures, and his earnings were small.

Dolores Del Rio Is Ill From Bad Food
Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Dolores Del Rio, Mexican screen actress who recently was married to Cedric Gibbons, motion picture director, was under the care of physicians at her home here today.

The illness was caused by tainted food, it was said.

The actress halted work on her latest picture yesterday when stricken by severe pains. Doctors said she will be able to return to work tomorrow.

Nearly 100 Million

Clarion, Pa., Aug. 27.—(AP)—An estate estimated at between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 was disposed of in the will of Thomas B. Slick, independent oil operator, which was probated today. Slick was reputed to be the wealthiest independent oil operator in the world.

The vast fortune was left to the widow, three children and Slick's mother. While no estimate of the value of the estate was contained in the will, Slick's attorney and others who were closely associated with him provided an estimate of its worth.

The oil operator's mother, Mrs. Mary Slick of Clarion, was provided with $5,000 a year as long as she lives.

The widow, Bernice Slick, of Oklahoma City, Okla., was left one third of the remainder of the estate and the remaining two thirds were left in trust to the three children.

The three children are Thomas B. Jr., Betty and Earl. At the age of 18 the daughter will receive $5,000 a year until she is 30 years old. The sons, at the age of 21, will receive $10,000 a year each until they are 30.

At the age of 30, each child will get one third of the amount due him or her; at the age of 45 another one third, and the last one third at the age of 55.

The oil operator was known as "The King of the Wildcaters." He engaged in operations in Illinois and throughout the southwest.

Slick was the son of a miller and was employed in his early years as a teamster in the Pennsylvania oil fields. He went to the southern Illinois fields in young manhood and began to amass his fortune. His first properties were sold for $2,500,000.

The first well in the Cushing field in the southwest was drilled by Slick. The Prairie Oil & Gas Company bought his holdings in 1929 for $45,000,000.

New operations in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas were engaging the oil man's attention when he entered the hospital at Baltimore. He had undergone a gastric operation and death resulted from a cerebral hemorrhage on August 16.

Ten French Military Fliers Are Killed
Dijon, France, Aug. 27.—(AP)—A pilot, two non-commissioned officers and the wireless operator of a military airplane were killed early today when their plane crashed near Corcelles-Les-Monts a few miles west of here.

Two other members of the crew saved their lives by jumping with parachutes. They escaped with slight injuries.

Ten military aviators have lost their lives in France within a few hours.

Last night, while in defense maneuvers six army fliers were killed when they crashed up at Chavannes near Chartres.

Coastwise Steamship Company has Receiver
London, August 27.—(UP)—A receiver and manager for the Lamport & Holt Steamship Co. was ordered appointed in the vacation court today by Justice Sir Travers Humphrey. The receiver has not yet been named.

The motion for appointment of a receiver and manager was made by the London Maritime Investment Co. The Lamport & Holt line operates freight and passenger service between New York and South America. It was the owner of the steamship Vestris which sank off the Virginia capes in the fall of 1928 with the loss of more than 200 lives.

NEW STATE PARK?
Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Plans for making a state park out of the Horseshoe Lake region near Granite City, were discussed by the Madison County regional committee at its initial meeting here.

It was revealed that the Illinois state department of conservation has under consideration the purchase of land in the lake region prior to creating a new state park.

LAKE GENEVA

On thy waters, Lake Geneva,
Where we ride, ride and row,
Mighty mountains laced in snow,
Blending shadows softly weave a
Veil upon the waves below,
Where we ride, ride and row.

Near thy shores, clear Lake Geneva,
Where we glide, glide and row,
Tinkling bell-notes come and go,
Lights grow dim and wild flowers leave a
Fragrance on the air below,
Where we glide, glide and row.

All is fair, dear Lake Geneva,
Where we glide and ride and row,
And as Alpine breezes blow,
In the gloaming we conceive a
Paradise is here below,
Where we glide and ride and row.
—From "Heart and Nature," by Charles Knowles Bolton.

RETURN FROM PLEASANT VACATION TRIP—

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sipe have returned to Dixon from a delightful vacation of three weeks, during which time they motored to Madison, Ind., the home of Mrs. Sipe's parents, and then accompanied by them a motor trip was made to Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia and the Carolinas. They enjoyed especially the trips over the battle fields in Georgia, including Chickamauga, etc. The scenery in the Cumberland mountains is beautiful, and from the top of Lookout Mountain in particular, from which vantage point one may look into three states, Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee.

Return From Enjoyable Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Byers of this city have returned from a most enjoyable western motor trip. Places of interest visited on their way to the west included Hot Springs, National Park, Dallas, Texas, Carlsbad Caverns, N. M., Tucson and Phoenix, Arizona. In California they visited the principal cities and spent some time in the various mountain resorts. They returned to Dixon by way of Yellowstone and Rocky Mountain National Parks, Denver, and Omaha. They left Dixon the seventh of June.

MOTORED TO DECATUR, ILL., TODAY—

Mrs. Theresa Brimblecome of Woosung and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hayes and daughter Charlotte of Ashton, left this morning by motor for Dixon, accompanied by Miss Anna Drew of Decatur, who has been visiting here, and who is returning home. The party intended to stop at several places enroute to Decatur.

Have You Heard?

Any unusual and lovely glazed pottery bowl can be used for a floral centerpiece if you get a holder to anchor the blooms.

These come most inexpensively and a variety of sizes and shapes. The newest ones are of wire and are constructed to make any flower feel and be set up by them.

As few as a half dozen blooms make a decent sized centerpiece by the use of one of these holders, which sit in the bottom of the bowl.

DRIVE TO WATERFORD WOODS, WIS.—

Mrs. Irving Countryman drove her car to Waterford Woods, Wis., the summer home of Mrs. Spratt, accompanied by William Thompson, Don Countryman, Mrs. Nina Rector and Mrs. Wm. B. McMahon. Mrs. Countryman is returning to Dixon, leaving the rest of the party for a visit.

NECKLINES COMPLICATED BY VESTIGES OF COLLARS

PARIS—(AP)—Necklines have forgotten how to be simple at many of the dressmaking houses which will influence winter styles.

Cape collars have largely disappeared, but a vestige of them remains in the form of narrow collars which outline necklines.

More often than not the collar is confined to the front of the dress in modified bib effect.

TO ENTERTAIN BIRTHDAY CLUB THURSDAY—

Miss Nonie Rosbrook will entertain the Birthday Club at luncheon Thursday honoring Miss Jean Hitchcock's birthday.

NEW YORK-PARIS FASHIONS

THE recurrent interest in modes and manners of the 18th Century has not only been felt through their invasion in the present-day dress fashions, but also in the boudoir. Some of the lovely new dressing table accessories have borrowed their decorative motifs from the so-called French "Louis" periods, that are so well known for their feeling of feminine refinement and graceful, dignified combination of subtle, delicate colors. As in dress fashions, brushes, combs, and mirrors must be infused with a certain amount of modernity when adapted from the historic design. The lacy design of fasteners and flowers, so beloved by Marie Antoinette, and so highly prized by designers of that age, can be easily seen on these tritons articles. Lovely springtime green luccie, with touches of peach and blue, is the material used for the set. It is appropriate for rooms decorated in either of the popular color schemes—green and orchid or peach and green. Another version of the same pattern is done with Antoinette's peach as the predominating color.

Pauline Fike And Fred Werner Wed In Pretty Ceremony

A pretty late summer wedding took place Sunday evening in the home of Mrs. Clara Fike in Milledgeville, when her daughter, Miss Pauline, was united in marriage to Fred Werner, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Werner residing two miles west of Milledgeville. Rev. P. J. Eckerle of Lanark, former pastor of the Church of the Brethren and an uncle of the bride, performed the nuptial ceremony at 7:30 o'clock. The bridal attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Fike, of Milledgeville, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Promptly at the hour Mrs. Abe Rieffe of Milledgeville played the Bridal Chorus by Wagner as the bridal procession led by little Karla Fike, niece of the bride, descended the stairway. The vows were plighted before the fire place in the living room, which was banked with hydrangeas, while the pianist played soft strains of "Melodies of Love."

In her bridal gown of white flat crepe designed in the latest mode, the bride was a charming picture. Her long white veil was the same veil which was worn by her mother when she was married. The bridal bouquet was a shower arrangement of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Fike wore pink flat crepe and a shoulder bouquet of carnations and rosebuds.

Refreshments were served to the 35 wedding guests at quarter tables. Later in the evening the couple departed on a honeymoon trip to points west. The bride was costumed in a brown ensemble with hat and shoes to match.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Werner are popular young people and active workers in the Church of the Brethren at Dutchtown. Mrs. Werner graduated from the Milledgeville high school and Mt. Morris college. She taught school several years in Thomson. Mr. Werner's former home was in Chadwick where he received his education.

After the wedding trip the couple will reside for the present with the bride's parents. Hosts of friends wish them a happy married life.

Threshing Crew Picnic Was Much Enjoyed

The Francis Long threshing crew to the number of twenty-five gathered at the Fred Craig home Sunday for an all day picnic.

A delicious chicken dinner was served on the lawn and in the afternoon ice cream and cake were served. Frank Smallwood, a machine man of over thirty-five years' experience, who is held in high esteem by all, especially the young men of the neighborhood, was present and pleased everyone by relating past experiences in threshing time. Radio music and games were enjoyed.

About 5:30 all departed for their homes, having spent a delightful day.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

WITH fruits and berries plentiful and cheap, and sugar selling at a price as low as we have seen in a generation, this is the ideal year for special activity in home preserving. Put up in attractively sealed and labeled glasses and jars, jams and jellies will make inexpensive and deeply appreciated Christmas gifts for friends and relatives when the Yule season rolls around.

A few juniper berries, obtainable at the drug store, placed in a frying pan that has been heated until very hot, will release aromatic fumes which will quickly drive the odor of cooking out of the house.

Despondent Girl Saved From Death

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Betty Queen, pretty 25-year-old unemployed stenographer, was saved from suicide today when a woman, a policeman and another man formed a human chain to pull her from the Chicago river.

Despondent over lack of work, without funds and her room rent in arrears, the girl leaped from a bridge over the river. Leona Reehl, 25, saw the girl floating down stream and summoned Policeman Victor West-Brook and another passerby.

The passerby held Miss Reehl's ankles and in turn was held by West-Brook. The first two floated out on the river and rescued the girl.

After she was taken to a police station, Miss Queen again attempted suicide by beating her head against her cell wall.

Shelton Brothers Are Jailed Again

East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 27.—(UP)—After a six-hour search Bernie Shelton, brother of Carl, southern Illinois gang leader, was arrested and placed in the county jail today on vagrancy charges.

Bernie was arrested by deputy sheriffs upon order of Sheriff James Ahrens, of St. Clair county.

"It's the same old charge," Ahrens said when Shelton was taken to jail. Both Bernie and Carl were ordered to remain out of East St. Louis for a period of six months, but made their appearance and were arrested. Bernie on vagrancy charges and Carl on prohibition charges.

RATHER GO HUNTING

Decatur, Ind.—(UP)—Residents of Adams county would much rather go hunting and fishing than get married, records of the county clerk show. Residents and non-residents took out 183 permits for hunting and fishing but only nine took out marriage licenses.

AIELLO BROS. IN MILLION CLEANUP ANNUALLY-ROCHE

Investigator Says Records Show Enormous Profits In Liqueur

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Evidence has been discovered that Joseph and Dominick Aiello, north side gang leaders, enjoyed a combined income of a million dollars yearly, Patrick Roche, chief investigator of the State's Attorney's office announced today.

Roche said he uncovered the evidence in his investigation of the murders of Jack Zuta, recently assassinated partner of the Aiello, and Alfred J. Lingle, murdered Chicago Tribune reporter. Business records left by Zuta in safety deposit boxes already have implicated several prominent Chicagoans.

Evidence of the huge incomes, Roche said, was obtained in raids on the luxurious apartment maintained by the Aiello brothers. Financial statements of the gang were turned over to federal authorities for prosecution on charges of income tax evasions.

The Aiello records were said to have disclosed an enormous traffic in alcohol by the gang. Roche was believed to have ordered the raid in the hope of obtaining evidence concerning the killing of Zuta, who was generally believed to have engineered Lingle's murder, and then "talked too much" about it.

Park Falls, Wis.—(UP)—While fishing for crappie in Tapp lake, Orville Brody caught a snapping turtle weighing 42 pounds, believed to be one of the largest seen in the northern part of the state in recent years.

Offers To Trace Own Thefts For Bank Examiners

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Bloeshaw Salik, confessed bank embezzler, promised today to assist bank examiners in auditing the records of the closed Northern Trust & Savings bank which he is alleged to have looted of more than $200,000. Salik told the examiners he would show them the duplicate mortgages by which he carried on his thefts.

Returned from the county jail at Gary, Salik said he would enter a plea of guilty when arraigned today. An additional shortage of $10,000 in the accounts of the bank was discovered and state bank examiners indicated that another bank official may become involved in the defalcation. Salik was secretary and treasurer of the institution.

Supposed Policemen Robbed Motorists

Cleveland, O., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Hailed by three men they believed to be policemen early today on the Akron-Cleveland road south of here, Walter Johnson and his nephew, Harold Johnson, both of St. Louis, stopped their car.

The supposed-policemen drew guns and robbed the pair of $241 in cash and jewelry valued at $3,125, the elder Johnson told Cleveland police. He said they were spending part of their vacation here and were returning from visiting friends at Akron when the robbery occurred.

SAFER MOTHERHOOD.

In these days of stock market crashes, drought, and unemployment, it is interesting to note that one or two things in the world are improving. The infant mortality rate is one of them. According to a report just issued by the American Child Health Association, there were 66.2 deaths among each thousand births during 1920.

Of course this number is far too large. Just one death is an extravagant gesture. But when we consider the fact that in spite of stock market crashes and drought and unemployment, the present rate ranks second to the lowest rate recorded for cities in the United States, we appreciate our national progress. In 1927, during days of greater prosperity, the recorded rate was 64.9.

Fifteen years the rate was near 100. Today it has fallen until it is only two-thirds of what it was just after the World War started.

We are appreciating, more and more, the sacrifice and cost which are involved in the creation of human life. As we grow more enlightened we are enacting laws for the promotion of the welfare and hygiene of maternity and infancy.

It is interesting to note that great deal of the legislative work along this line has come about during the last ten years, since women have received the ballot. They are responsible to a large degree for the passage of the famous Shepard-Towner Act which established a federal bureau to carry on maternity work and disseminate helpful knowledge.

So long as we are placing a high premium on life, endeavoring to save it, and succeeding in that endeavor, our progress is upward.

Other conditions will improve. They always have. If we can keep the health of the nation sound and continue to cut down the infant mortality rate, which used to be such a dragon in our forest, we are proceeding up the mountain slope of achievement.

We are not there, by any matter of means. Sixty-six and a fraction deaths from every thousand is far too many. But we have the satisfaction of knowing that in spite of the economical bumps and bruises of the present day, we are all agreed that life is distinctly worth saving.

A HERO GOES WEST.

Another good soldier has gone West. He has found his regiment and sits contentedly in some far land where barbed wire, gas, and bursting shells are no longer a tortured memory.

Old Cap or Captain, as he was called, was a wire-haired Griffon, who served with the French Red Cross, with distinction, during the World War. It was his task to find the wounded men who lay in the tangled barbed wire and shell holes. Old Cap never faltered. Through the flames, on where the gas clouds rolled, a mask over his nose and eyes, he ran.

Somehow he knew that it was duty. There were men, his comrades in the army, who needed help. And always he came.

"Cap will find me," one soldier in his outfit would murmur to another. "Don't worry. He'll be along 'most any minute."

All through the weary years Cap performed his duty. If he was scared, nobody ever knew it. His bright eyes would listen carefully to orders and he would obey them faithfully.

Then the war ended. An American soldier brought the dog home. Something must have told his heart that war was over. That his services were no longer required along the barbed wire.

When he had been needed he had never hesitated to go. Now that he wasn't, he stayed away from all wire fences. Nothing could coax him near. He remembered the sharp, sudden hail . . . the blood . . . the moans . . . black nights with mad red fire. The other day he died at Ware, Mass., at the ripe age of 15 years.

There is a lesson in the life of the soldier-dog who has passed through the western gates. He was never afraid to risk his life as long as he could be of service. But when he knew that he couldn't, he calmly refused to take an unnecessary risk.

Some of the gay flirtations with death today might end more happily if we used the same dog sense.

Reports say that King Carol will be crowned in the spring but fail to mention what with.

The Census Bureau reports that more people in this country are riding bicycles this year. One reason may be they are anxious to see how it actually feels to keep a balance in these times.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Inside the stadium the bunch went to a stand and bought some lunch. Then they were ushered to their seats and ready for some fun. It was a gala sport event and all the afternoon was spent in very thrilling races. It was fun to see them run. "This stadium has earned its fame 'cause to it many people came from every section of the world," the Travel Man explained. "The big Olympic Games were once held here with all their thrilling stunts." The Tynmites all looked so hard their little necks were strained.

Real soon they heard the final gun and all the racing stunts were done. The Tynmites joined the merry throng and quickly left the place. "Well, now I guess we'll take a chance on witnessing a native dance," exclaimed the friendly Travel Man, with smile upon his face.

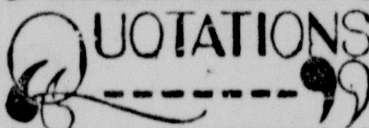

Mild darkness they all walked until they reached a place atop a hill. Weak strains of music reached their ears. "They're dancing," Clowny cried. Then to a window they all sneaked and, taking turns, each Tyn peeked. A man then shouted to the bunch, "Hey, lads, come on inside." They did, and round the place abum with music from a flute and drum. The Tyns stayed till all tired out. Then hied to a hotel. Each one had quite a good night's rest. At dawn they all were up and dressed. The Travel Man then took them to a place they all thought swell.

In just a short time they all drove out to a pretty olive grove. Some folks were picking olives and it was a sight to see. Said Clowny, "Gee, but I'm surprised! I frankly never realized that olives that we buy in jars are grown upon a tree."

HARRISON'S BIRTH
On August 20, 1833, Benjamin Harrison, soldier, orator, lawyer, author and twenty-third president of the United States was born at North Bend, Ohio. He was a great-grandson of Benjamin Harrison, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and grandson of William Henry Harrison, ninth president of the United States.
After graduating from Miami University in 1852, Harrison studied law at Cincinnati. He practiced in Indianapolis, Ind. Entering the Union army in 1862, he served with conspicuous gallantry in the Atlanta campaign, finally returning to civil life at the close of the war with the rank of brigadier general. In 1881 he entered the United States Senate and seven years later was nominated for the presidency by the Republican convention and subsequently elected. His administration is characterized as "quiet, successful and measurably popular." Nominated for a second term, Harrison was defeated by Cleveland, a Democrat.

Harrison was the chief representative of the United States at the Hague conference in 1899. He lectured for a time at Leland Stanford Junior University in California. He died after a brief illness in Indianapolis in 1901.

U. G. BAKER, PUBLISHER OF THE SUSQUEHANNA (PA.) EVENING TRANSCRIPT, SAYS:
"That when you neglect to pay that 'little account' over at the store you are doing just that much toward slowing down business in America?"
When you get along with two shirts, two suits of underclothes, one pair of shoes, and one suit when you know positively that you need more, and you know that in the bank in your own name is sufficient money to pay for them, you are slowing down business by not purchasing and paying for the goods you actually need."
When you refuse to buy that which you actually need and can pay for in cash, YOU are one of the sprags in the wheels of American industry and business.

When you refuse to buy and pay, when you decide to wait until "things pick up," you are materially interfering with legitimate business.
When you do not buy the merchant does not sell, and when the merchant does not sell he does not buy, and when the merchant does not buy goods the factory does not run, and this in the aggregate makes for unemployment and "business depression."
It is for the people who are working and earning, and they are in the majority, to do the plain duty of the moment, and that is to pay bills and purchase goods actually needed, paying cash for such goods, to bring back the "good old times." MERCHANTS CAN AID IN THIS "RECONSTRUCTION WORK" BY ADVERTISING CONSISTENTLY AND INTELLIGENTLY IN THE HOME TOWN PAPER.

WHY FOLKS FAIL

By James L. McCartney, M. D.
New York, New York

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

We continue today our discussion on the various aspects of so-called failures in life.

The man who is nursing a case of dyspepsia and grouch may be having bad luck on the stock market or at a game of cards, or perhaps he is having a hard time to get along with his wife, but there's little doubt that as a child he was also a poor loser and had pretty much his own way. He just wasn't given a chance to learn about the gives and takes of life.

Then there is the woman who can't sleep nights, has to go to bed with a sick headache every week or so, or is afraid she's going to die and in general is quite miserable most of the time, just because some over protective parent or friend during her early life, without realizing it, instilled some fears into her personality. Of course, it may be an unsympathetic husband, or the ever present children who put too much strain on her emotional make-up, and aggravate her fears.

Many parents and teachers do not realize the fact that they are god-heads to their children, and can do no wrong. The children naturally conclude that what these adults do is what they should do, whether it be to get angry, to steal, to be procrustine. Once started these practices may become habits, and since example is far more impressive than precept it can hardly be expected that laws and regulations placed upon these children when they grow up will be honored.
You can thus see that what we say and do to our children may be the real cause of our failure later on in life, but fortunately, mental hygiene and child guidance is helping to right much of the wrong that has been done and is preventing such errors in the future. The ideal of mental hygiene is the attainment of mental health, which means the ability of persons to support themselves and yet be happy.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Put your trust in the Lord.—Psalm 4:5.

An undivided heart, which worships God alone, and trusts him as it should, is raised above anxiety for earthly wants.—J. C. Giekie.

Legge Believes Loss Exaggerated

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 26.—(UP)—The reported loss in farm incomes on account of the drought in the United States has been over-estimated, the opinion of Alexander Legge, Chairman of the Federal Farm Board, attending the Iowa State Fair.

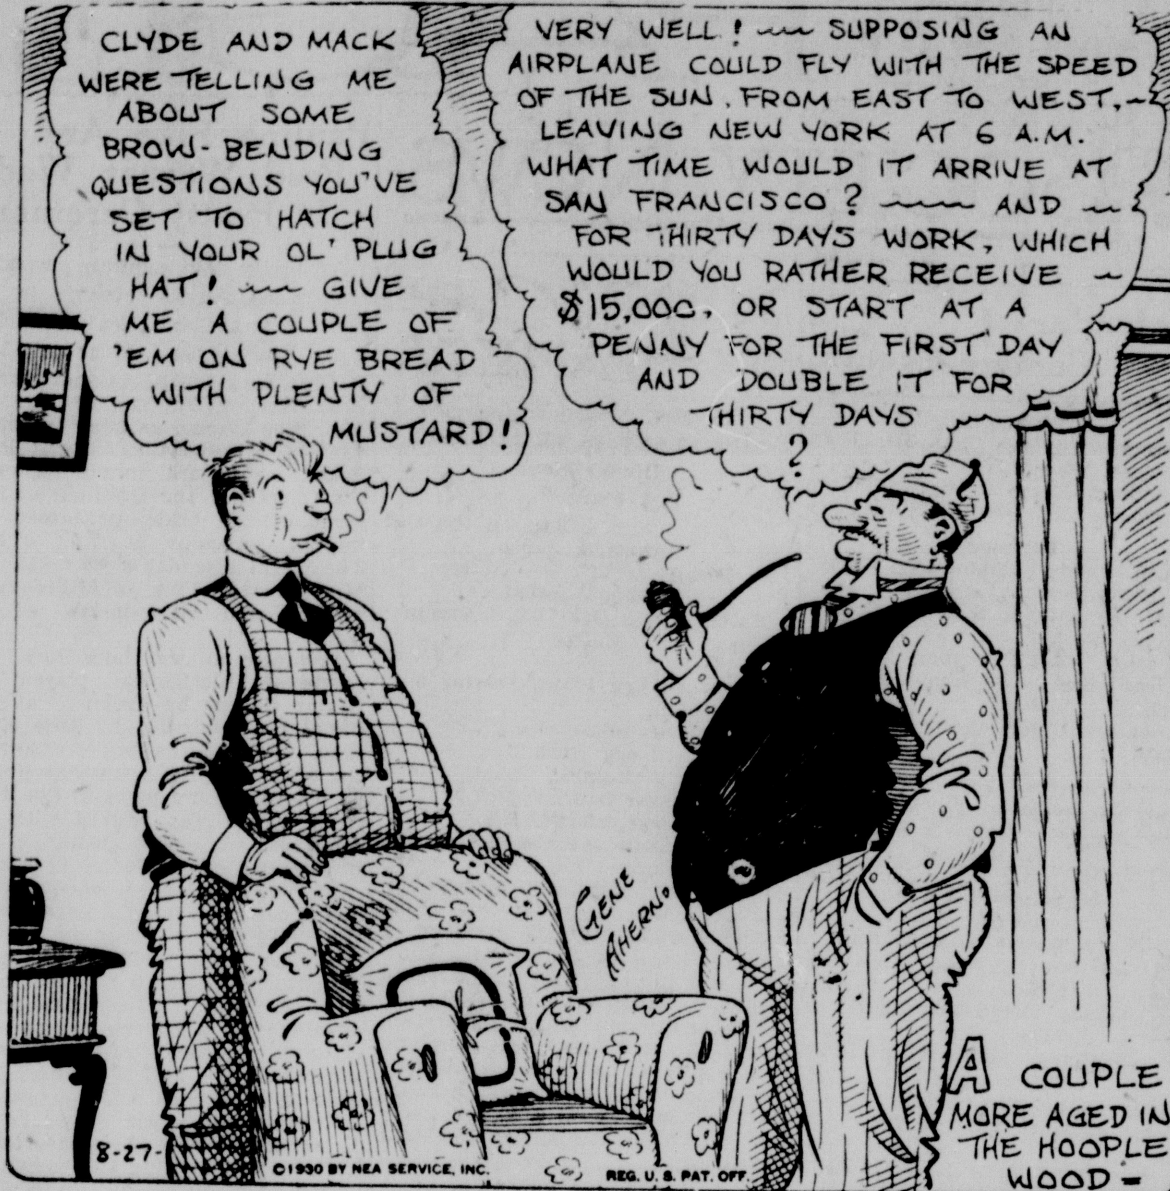

"There is a strong probability that the agriculture states of the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys will yield almost as great, and in some instance greater farm income in 1930 than in 1929 if farmers in this region use good judgment and show a cooperative spirit," Legge said.

"While admitting the damage has been serious, the counties adjoining both sides of the Ohio river, in parts of the Rocky Mountain region; in Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and certain of the southern states including Texas, the drought has not been serious in the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys," he said.

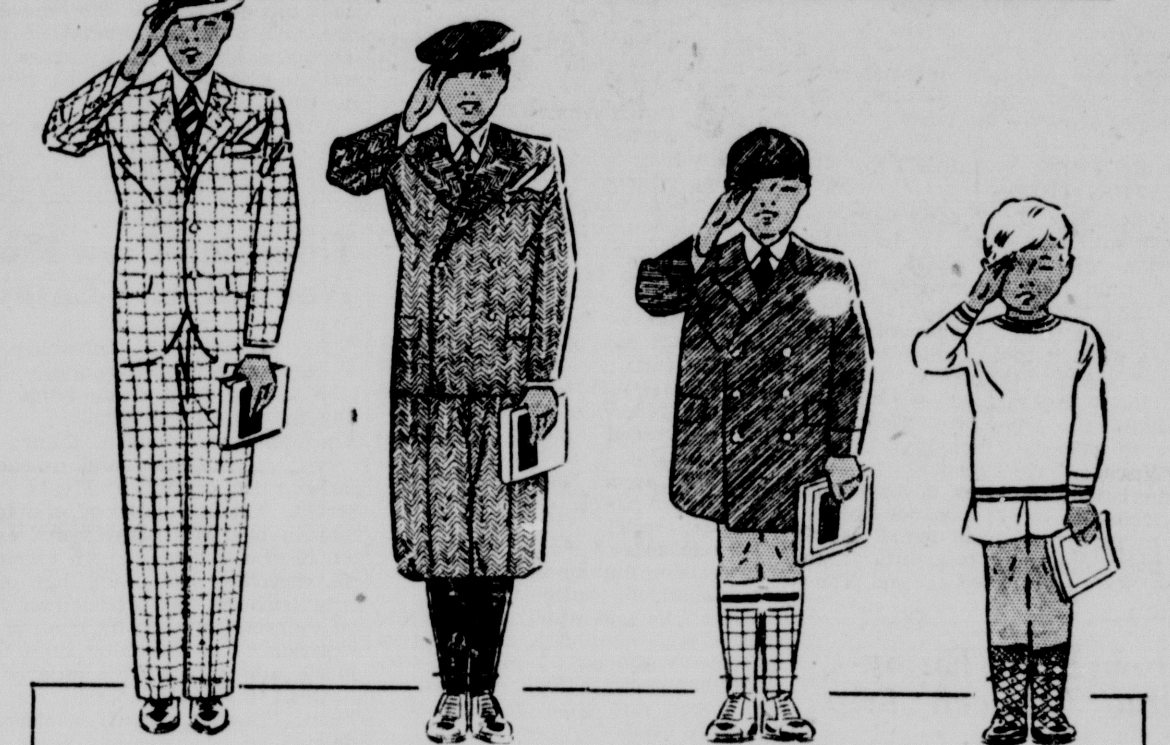

Legge said the region in which he thought farm incomes would be great if not greater this year than last year, included the state of Iowa, Nebraska, northern Kansas, north-west Missouri, eastern portions of the Dakotas Minnesota, Wisconsin, most of Illinois and portions of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

FARMERS PLAN TO REDUCE PLANTING OF WINTER WHEAT

Government Crop Report Indicates 4.5 Per Cent Cut In Acreage

Washington, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The agriculture department announced today that farmers throughout the country had expressed the intention of planting 4.5 percent less of winter wheat than last fall.

The announcement was made on the basis of data received during August.

An intended increase of 1.3 percent in fall seedings of winter rye for grain over seedings in the fall of 1929 was reported to the department by crop correspondents. The indicated acreage of winter wheat, amounting to 41,392,000 acres, is the lowest since 1923.

"This is the third consecutive year of decrease of intended seedings since the peak year 1927 when farmers reported in August an intention to seed over 49,000,000 acres of winter wheat," the department's statement said. "Weather conditions and other causes prevented the seeding of the full acreage intended."

The indicated acreage for winter rye was given as 3,882,000 acres compared with a seven year average intention of 4,411,000 acres.

The intended seedings are one or two per cent less than was planted last year in the north central states which have about 75 percent of the total acreage, being 44 percent less in North Dakota, but heavy increases are shown in many southern and western states.

Actual seeding of winter wheat during the past seven years have averaged about four percent below August intentions for the entire country. The spread has varied from eight percent below intentions in 1928, when fall seeding conditions are unfavorable to three percent above intentions in 1923.

The report showed an intention by Nebraska and Oklahoma farmers to decrease winter wheat seedings 13 percent this fall, Illinois 8 percent and Colorado 7 percent.

Decreases of 5 percent were reported from Texas, Montana, and California. Other heavy producing states for the most part showed decreases of from one to four percent save Washington which reported an intended increase of 50 percent.

The following table includes intentions to plant in the principal wheat producing states—

Pct.	Acres Intended of 1929	Intended in Thousands
Indiana	97	1,704
Illinois	92	2,076
Wisconsin	110	48
Iowa	85	325
Missouri	92	1,395
Nebraska	87	3,168
Kansas	93	11,799

COMPTON NEWS

Compton—Compton grade school has $130 more in their fund as a result of the premiums awarded to them by the Lee County Fair Association. Prizes were awarded on work done in the local grades, and displayed at Amboy, during the fair, by the teachers, Mrs. Zella Swope and Mrs. Emma Fox. Mrs. Fox has left for Hot Springs, Arkansas, and Miss Ruth Card assisted in taking the articles to Amboy for her. For the past five years Compton school displays at the county fair has been among the best, netting over $400 during this period for use in the local school. Much credit is due to the teachers in placing the local school work at the county fair. This fund has been used in equipping the grades with library books, sewing machines and tools for manual training. Since the fire which destroyed our old school building, early in 1929, this fund has gone towards buying books and equipment for the entire school.

It is quite evident that Mr. H. L. Rhoads and sons have a real Holstein herd of milk cows as the Lee County Fair Association has awarded him with first premium on his best producer. Mr. Rhoads exhibited two Holsteins cows at the fair and nearly placed the other but was bettered by a Mr. Smith of Amboy. Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Thompson have returned home prior to commencing of school on Tuesday, September 2nd. They have spent most of the summer at Peoria where they both attended summer school at Bradley Tech.

COMPTON SCHOOL NOTES

The Compton schools will open at 9 a. m. Tuesday, September 2nd. The enrollment in the grades is expected to be as large or larger than last year. Mrs. Zella Swope is the primary teacher with the first, second and third grades. Mrs. Mildred Olson and Mr. Merritt Ackland of West Brooklyn are the two new teachers and will have charge of the fourth, fifth and sixth and grammar room respectively. Mrs. Olson and Mr. Ackland will divide the work of the five upper grades, one teaching certain subjects to all five grades and the other teaching the remainder of the work. Such a plan makes possible better work and better teaching and provides additional time for each class. In the high school Prof. D. C. Thompson and Mrs. Thompson and Miss Evelyn Saylor will be at their duties of former years. Miss Saylor will have charge of the English and Latin classes and also Civics. Mrs. Thompson will teach high school history only. Mr. Thompson will have mathematics and science classes with a class in economics during the latter half of the year. Enrollment in the high school will be about the same as last year.

Compton schools will have free text books as in accordance with the vote of the school district last spring. A deposit fee of $1.00 is required of all those who did not donate their books to the school. This deposit will, however, be returned when the books are returned, if the books show only reasonable wear.

The text books are on hand and will be issued to the pupils Tuesday. Pupils should have their deposit fee when they come to school that day. Pupils must, however, furnish their own tablets, pencils, pens, ink, note-books etc.

Mr. Thompson is ready to send the credits of the last years graduates to whatever school they expect to attend as soon as he is notified.

Mr. Fred Gilmore and sister, Mrs. Chaffee of Paw Paw, left for Prescott, Arizona, early this week, to be at the bedside of their brother, Mr. Harry Gilmore.

Word was received late last week that Harry Gilmore of Glendale, Arizona, was badly injured and his wife killed instantly, when his car collided with another, while returning from a trip in the mountains. ## Buy Bale Of Cotton Movement Started By Gov. Dan Moody

Austin, Texas, Aug. 26.—(UP)—An appeal to governors of southern states to join with him in a "buy a bale of cotton movement" similar to that of 1914 was made today by Governor Dan Moody of Texas.

In a telegram to each governor in the cotton belt, Moody urged they join in a nation-wide appeal for all who have the means to buy a bale of the 1930 crop at fifteen cents a pound an stake it off the market.

"If they will join with me," Moody said, "and the people of the nation respond as they should, we ought to be able to take five million bales off the market and raise the price."

"In addition it would give the farmers of the south, who are now suffering from drought and low prices, something for their cotton and their effort—something approaching a fair return."

What Kind of a "Front" Are You Putting Up?---

"We are putting in a new, attractive and modern store front in order to make a good first impression. We must build our store properly from that point on in order to consistently deserve your business, but you get a very definite impression of us that is lasting from what you see on the surface."

We think this ties up pretty definitely with the matter of wearing good clothes. People do get a very definite first impression by what they see. Why shouldn't the "front" that you are putting up to your friends and acquaintances be one which would be complimentary in every way to you. Good clothes, clothes that one enjoys wearing cost only a trifle more when they are purchased. They cost less in the long run.

We hope that the new fall clothes we will soon be displaying in our new store front will be of the type that will please you and assist you in developing and capitalizing the point of the favorable first impression that is so valuable to everyone during these days of casual and hurried sizing up of the other fellow."

THREE GROUPS IN ATLANTA STIRRING RACIAL AGITATION

The Klan, American Fascisti and the White Band Are Active

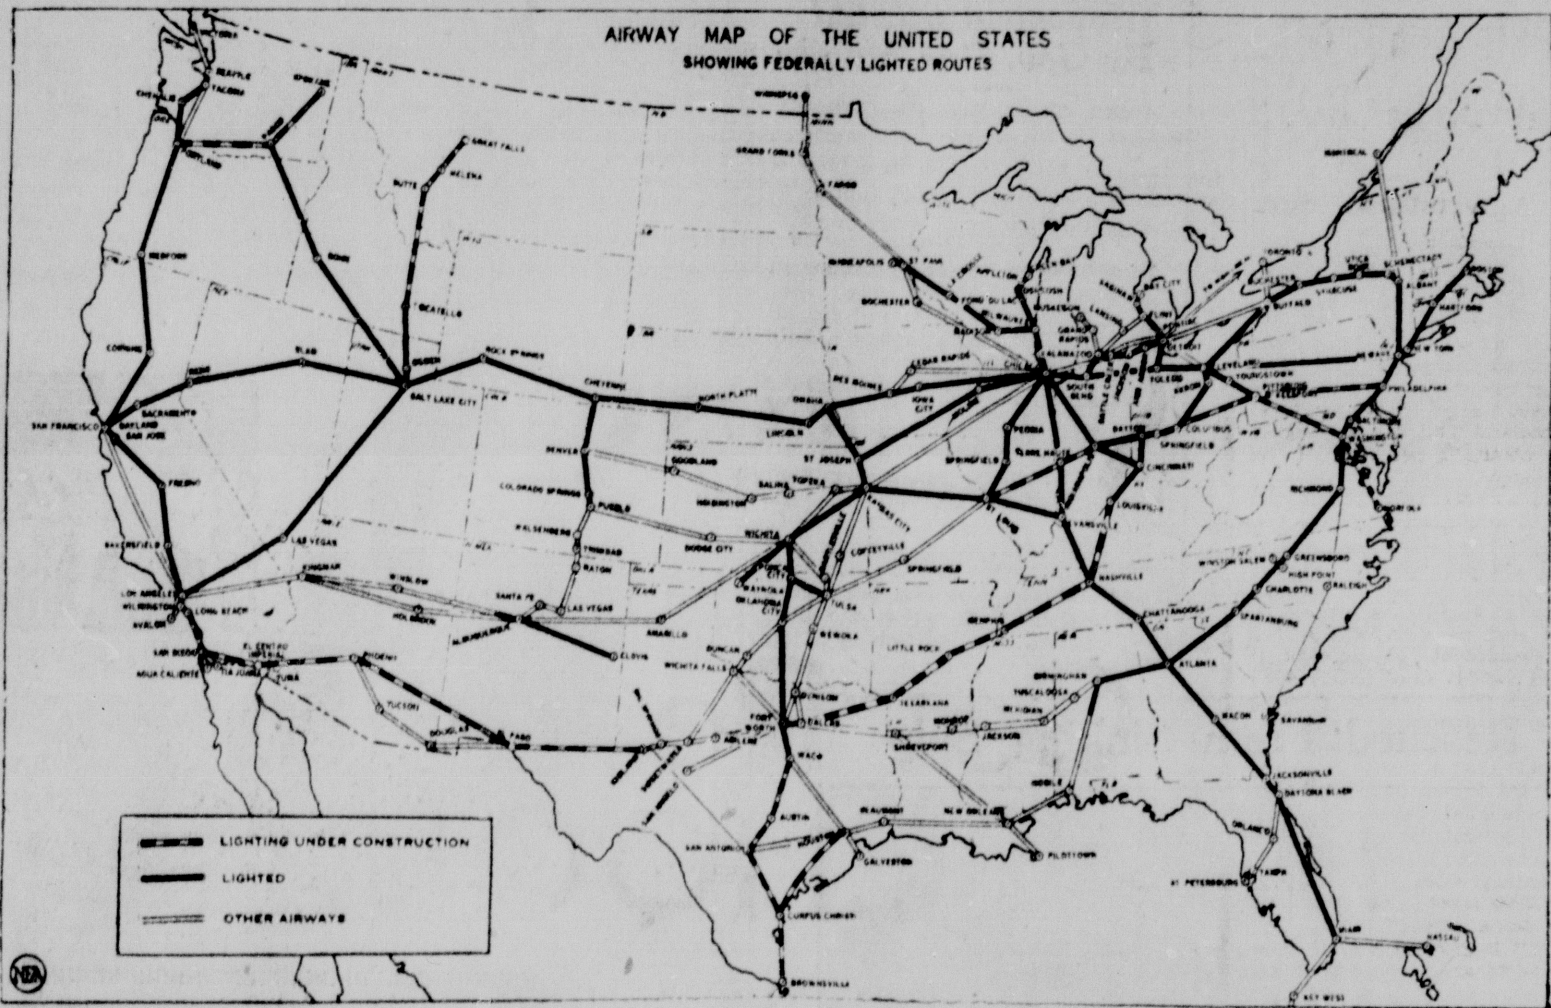

By MORRIS DE HAVEN TRACY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Atlanta, Georgia, Aug. 27—(UP)—There are at least three organizations in the south today around which racial agitation is centering. They are the American Fascisti Order of Blackshirts, the White Band of Caucasian Crusaders and the Ku Klux Klan. For the moment the American Fascisti appears the most active. The White Band seems to be a shadow of its former self, although no one is entirely certain as to its exact strength or the definite scope of its present activity. All three of these organizations have headquarters in Atlanta and the first two undoubtedly center their main strength whatever it is, in that city. The Ku Klux Klan maintains its organization in other states but seldom shows its hand. While the other two organizations make rather indefinite claims as to their strength outside of the Georgia capital, three weeks in the south failed to reveal to this writer definite proof of their activity elsewhere. The American Fascisti is the youngest of the three. It still is in the formative process and its application for a charter as an organization "to inculcate and foster in the minds of its members and the public generally, white supremacy" is still pending in the courts. It claims to have 15,000 applications for membership "which are being acted upon as rapidly as possible." Its membership, like that of the old Klan, is largely secret, its meetings are secret, and the only officer whose name is known to the public is H. J. Gwin, winner, spokesman for the "adjutant-general's" office. R. A. Gordon, R. S. Gullledge and H. J. Gwin are applied for the organization's charter. It issues its public communications after the fashion of military orders.

Color Only Bar
The membership is open to any male, white citizen over the age of 18 "regardless of religion or creed." "All one needs," an organizer said, "is a white skin, a white heart and a black shirt."
When the organization makes public appearances its members wear the black shirts of the Italian Fascists. The association aimed its first blows against Communism, but soon turned to the Negro. Now it is holding frequent meetings in Atlanta, with crowds said to number 1,500 or more. Speakers harangue these gatherings denouncing the employment of Negroes while white men are idle, make fiery statements on the race question and condemn Communism at the same time.
It has begun a campaign to "get jobs for white men" and claims to have displaced 500 Negroes in Atlanta business houses with white help. It is maintained that threat of boycott is used to obtain this end when persuasion does not work. The "jobs for white men" campaign is popular with many white working men because unemployment among them is serious at present. In fact in the absence of definite figures, responsible Atlantans are of the opinion that the percentage of unemployment is greater among whites than among Negroes.

Simmons Active
The White Band of Caucasian Crusaders is headed by William Joseph Simmons, organizer of the Ku Klux Klan. He began forming it soon after Dr. Hiram W. Evans forced Simmons to relinquish to him control of the Klan. It is described by Simmons as "essentially and fundamentally an ethnic or racial movement of the white man."
Again quoting Simmons, the organization finds the Negro "has been given full social, political, industrial and economic privileges along with the white man, by virtue of fanatical, farcical and bastard legislation, political perfidy and sectional social sanction."
"He is constantly urged and inspired to take full advantage of all these ill-considered privileges," according to Simmons, "by educational methods and activities and a false, unnatural and ungodly religious, shallow sentimentalism most unwisely indulged in by so many unthinking white people... all of which rapidly tends to free, intimate social contact, then a short step to sexual intermixing, blood adulteration, mental and moral degeneracy, cultural disintegration, racial wreck and ruin, with nothing gained, but all lost without hope of redemption—lost in the fathomless depths of the sea of the sin unpardonable."
The organization preaches that the only hope remaining to the white man is for him to combine, unite, to organize himself without political and sectional considerations for self-protection of his blood, his interest and his breed."

Stirs Antagonism
But beyond agitation by propaganda for the moment there is little sign of the White Band taking concrete action in specific cases. Its work seems largely by preachment. Those who share none of the views of the extreme "white supremacy" agitators and hope to keep the peace between the races feel that the preachers, however, are a powerful factor in stirring antagonism.
The Ku Klux Klan, it seems generally agreed, has done little of late. In Alabama it was a factor, most observers agreed, in the recent primary campaign and probably will rally some strength around Senator Thomas Heflin in his campaign for re-election. There are reports of

Two New Trans-Continental Airmail Lines Due Soon

Airmail is soon to speed across the United States by two almost entirely new trans-continental routes, south of the existing route from New York to the Pacific Coast via Chicago, which branches out like a fan from Salt Lake City. It is expected that the new mail service will begin late this year. The above map, prepared by the aeronautics branch of the U. C. Department of Commerce from newest data, shows routes already lighted for night flying, those being lighted and other airways.

BLOOMINGTON HAS HER CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION ON

A Four Day Program Is Marking 100th Year In Her History

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Back pages of early American history were staged in real life today as Bloomington and McLean county opened a four day celebration in honor of the community's one hundredth birthday.

A historical parade which portrayed the settling of this region and steps in its development from a pioneer settlement to be one of the greatest agricultural centers in America, was the feature of today's celebration. In it were pictured the heroic figures of early settlers and of men and incidents which played important parts in the community's history.

Abraham Lincoln, whose life was so closely interwoven with the history of most central Illinois communities was one of the returned-to-life characters in the parade.

His part was played by Fred Strehle, a blacksmith from Danvers.

High bicycles, carriages, stage coaches, old automobiles and sundry vehicles helped to take the spectators of the parade to the old days of "Way Back When."

The centennial was officially opened this morning with an address by General Frank S. Dickson, former Adjutant General and Chief of Staff of the Illinois National Guard. He was introduced by Congressman Homer W. Hall, who also officiated at the crowning of Miss Lucille Ward of Colfax, Centennial Queen. Others scheduled to make addresses during the day included United States District Judge Louis Fitz Henry and Mayor Ben S. Rhodes.

Tonight the celebration will be marked by a pageant of progress in which one thousand citizens of the community will take part. Free acts of vaudeville and a band of 32 Winnebago Indians from their encampment at Starved Rock were among side attractions.

Saturday the dedication of the $1,500,000 Lake Bloomington will take place.

72 PER CENT OF LANDS IN CROPS

Recent Agricultural Survey Reveals 14 Million Acres

Edinburgh, Scotland.—(UP)—Recent agricultural survey by the Ministry of Agriculture show that there are 14,372,000 acres of agricultural land in Scotland. This figure roughly represents about 72 per cent of the total land area.

The total acreage under crops and grass is 4,665,462 acres. Of this total there are 3,133,430 acres of arable land and 1,532,032 acres of permanent grass.

Slightly over 800,000 acres are sown with oats. The next most important crop from the standpoint of acreage, is turnips and swedes, since nearly 400,000 acres are given over to growing turnips and swedes. Rye-grass, clover and other rotation grasses are found on 1,500,000 acres.

Potatoes are grown on about 145,000 acres, while 111,324 acres are devoted to Scotland's barley crop. Slightly more than 50,000 acres produce the annual wheat crop. Rye is sown on 3,200 acres and beans on about the same acreage.

Small fruit is grown on 8,006 acres and 1,200 acres are covered with orchards.

TWO PROMINENT CHINESE JAILED AS ASSASSINS

Police Claim Huang Poyao Headed Ring Of Murder

Peking.—(UP)—Two prominent Chinese have been arrested by Peking police charged with being the leaders of an "assassination corps," which has already killed a number of leaders of the Left Wing of the Kuomintang, and according to the police had planned to murder many more.

The police allege that Huang Poyao, one of the men now in jail here, is employed directly by General Chiang Kai-shek, chief of the government at Nanking, and leader of the moderate wing of the Kuomintang. They declare they have evidence that Huang engineered assassinations in Shanghai and Canton.

Huang came to North China last May, the police charge, in order to arrange the assassination of Wang Chiang-wei, leader of the Left Wing, who was expected to come to North China at that time. Wang Chiang-wei, however, remained in Hong-kong, waiting for Right and Left Wing leaders to settle their disputes and agree upon the principles of a new northern government.

Wang Chiang-wei, who has consistently been General Chiang Kai-shek's principal opponent inside the Kuomintang, has been fearing assassination for years. When he came to Shanghai in 1927, he surrounded his house with four sets of guards, and did not venture into Chinese territory.

The Chinese press here declares that Chiang Kai-shek has gotten rid of dozens of his opponents by assassination, employing gunmen from Shanghai and Canton. This, of course, is the statement of newspapers operated by General Chiang's political opponents, and there is no independent evidence to substantiate these claims.

Recommend Laws to Speed Prosecutions

Bunker Hill, Ill., Aug. 26.—(UP)—Passage of laws to eliminate delays in criminal prosecutions will be recommended to the General Assembly by the Judicial Advisory Council of Illinois. Senator A. B. Cuthbertson, chairman, announced today.

Bills already have been prepared for introduction which would better the Illinois judicial system, members of the council said.

Recommendations to be made include: Reclassification of crimes to give Prosecuting Attorneys authority to proceed by information instead of awaiting grand jury indictments in all except capital offenses and a few minor crimes.

Vesting in trial judges the right to fix punishment, the jury merely pronouncing the accused guilty or not guilty.

Abolition of terms of court so that accused persons in jail at public expense may be tried quickly.

Limitation upon peremptory jury challenges and more discretion to the court in matters of probation.

Empowering courts to try accused persons when they have waived privilege of trial by jury.

Other recommendations also may be made.

Launching Of French Torpedo Boat Brings Injuries To Many

Havre, France, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The torpedo boat Vautour, 400 feet long, slipped on the ways during its launching today, injuring many and stampeding all of the large crowd witnessing the christening ceremonies.

The 2480-ton ship, one of the finest units in the new French fleet, slid about 200 feet down the ways. Suddenly it swung about as if on a pivot when two thirds of the hull had hit the water.

The bow of the Vautour remained in the cradle, high in the air. Intense excitement spread throughout the crowd which dashed in all directions. Scores were bruised but officials said none had been seriously injured.

Extent of the damage to the torpedo boat could not be fixed. Completion of the launching had to be postponed until the flood tides of September.

The deep sea submarine Meduse was launched successfully.

Convinced "Mystery Girl" Is His Child

Omaha, Nebr., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Convinced that Omaha's long dead "mystery girl" is his daughter, John McConnell of Carthage, Ill., arrived today to take her body back for burial at Fountain Green, Ill.

On his arrival here early today in company with another daughter, Miss Evelyn McConnell, of Carthage, the father rushed to her grave and stood by it silently for a few minutes.

The "mystery girl," Mrs. Beulah McConnell Wagon of Colchester, Ill., was identified by McConnell and members of his family through photographs after she had lain in an unmarked grave here eleven years. Her body was found in a wooden casket near here in 1919.

J. C. C. Cannot Make Use Of $10,000,000

Washington, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has $10,000,000 in its railroad contingent fund but is unable to use a cent of it at the present time.

This amount has been collected from prosperous roads earning more than six percent on their investment under the provisions of the 1920 Railway Transportation Act.

The money was intended to be loaned to weaker roads, but this has been barred by Controller General McCarl until the commission fixes a valuation of the railroads upon which the earnings are determined. Under a tentative valuation, the money has been collected from the prosperous railroads, but in nearly every case has been paid under probable test. McCarl ruled that none of the money should be used pending a final valuation.

Since January 1 the commission has been busily engaged in valuation work and the value of some of the roads is expected to be decided next winter. As quickly as the valuation of individual railroads is completed any money they have paid into the contingent fund would become available for less profitable roads.

The Railway Transportation Act provided that all roads earning more than six percent must pay half of the excess into the contingent fund and keep the other half as a reserve fund until it equals five percent of the railroad's value.

Last year $2,000 went into the contingent fund, but the commission does not expect that much this year.

CAGED ANIMALS ARE DISCUSSED BY ZOO OFFICIAL

Lions, Tigers, Gentle, But Don't Trust Deer, Expert Declares

By JOHN M. MARTYN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Philadelphia—(UP)—Lions, tigers and other carnivorous species may be the terror of the jungles and "rule the roost" in their native habitat, but when they are placed in captivity they rapidly become easily handled guests.

They frequently develop a liking for petting and behave generally like well bred dogs, taking a fancy to their attendants and showing their love and admiration by means of good behavior and fawning, according to C. Emerson Brown, Director of the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens.

"Surprising as it may seem," Brown declares, "the deer—that mild and gentle creature of the woodland—is one of our real sources of trouble. Here at the Zoo we have learned through bitter experience that the buck deer, with all his glorified head-dress, is not the fine, stately beast he appears to be but a natural born 'ornery critter' to be feared at all times. His temper is very bad and never is it safe to turn away from him. Dozens of times keepers have had really narrow escapes from a painful goring when one of these towering fellows has put his head down and charged. The doe isn't a very gentle specimen either when she is once put into a wire-enclosed pasture. While it is not her natural instinct to charge a man she will take any chance afforded her to bite at a keeper who isn't wary.

"The African Buffalo is probably the net most perilous charge of the keepers here, although in his natural state he ranks among the first on the danger list.

"They are noted for their cunning and have been known to separate when pursued and part of their herd to attack a hunting party from the rear. They have remarkable memories, similar to that of the elephant, and if ever one of these beasts gets a grip he will wait his chance to get even.

"One instinctively distrusts lions and tigers; therefore the danger is less, but wolves, never showing any signs of affection, cannot be misjudged.

"Poisonous snakes may be adjudged in the same light. There is nothing any more deadly, but evil is expected of them and always they will strike and try to get away rather than fight.

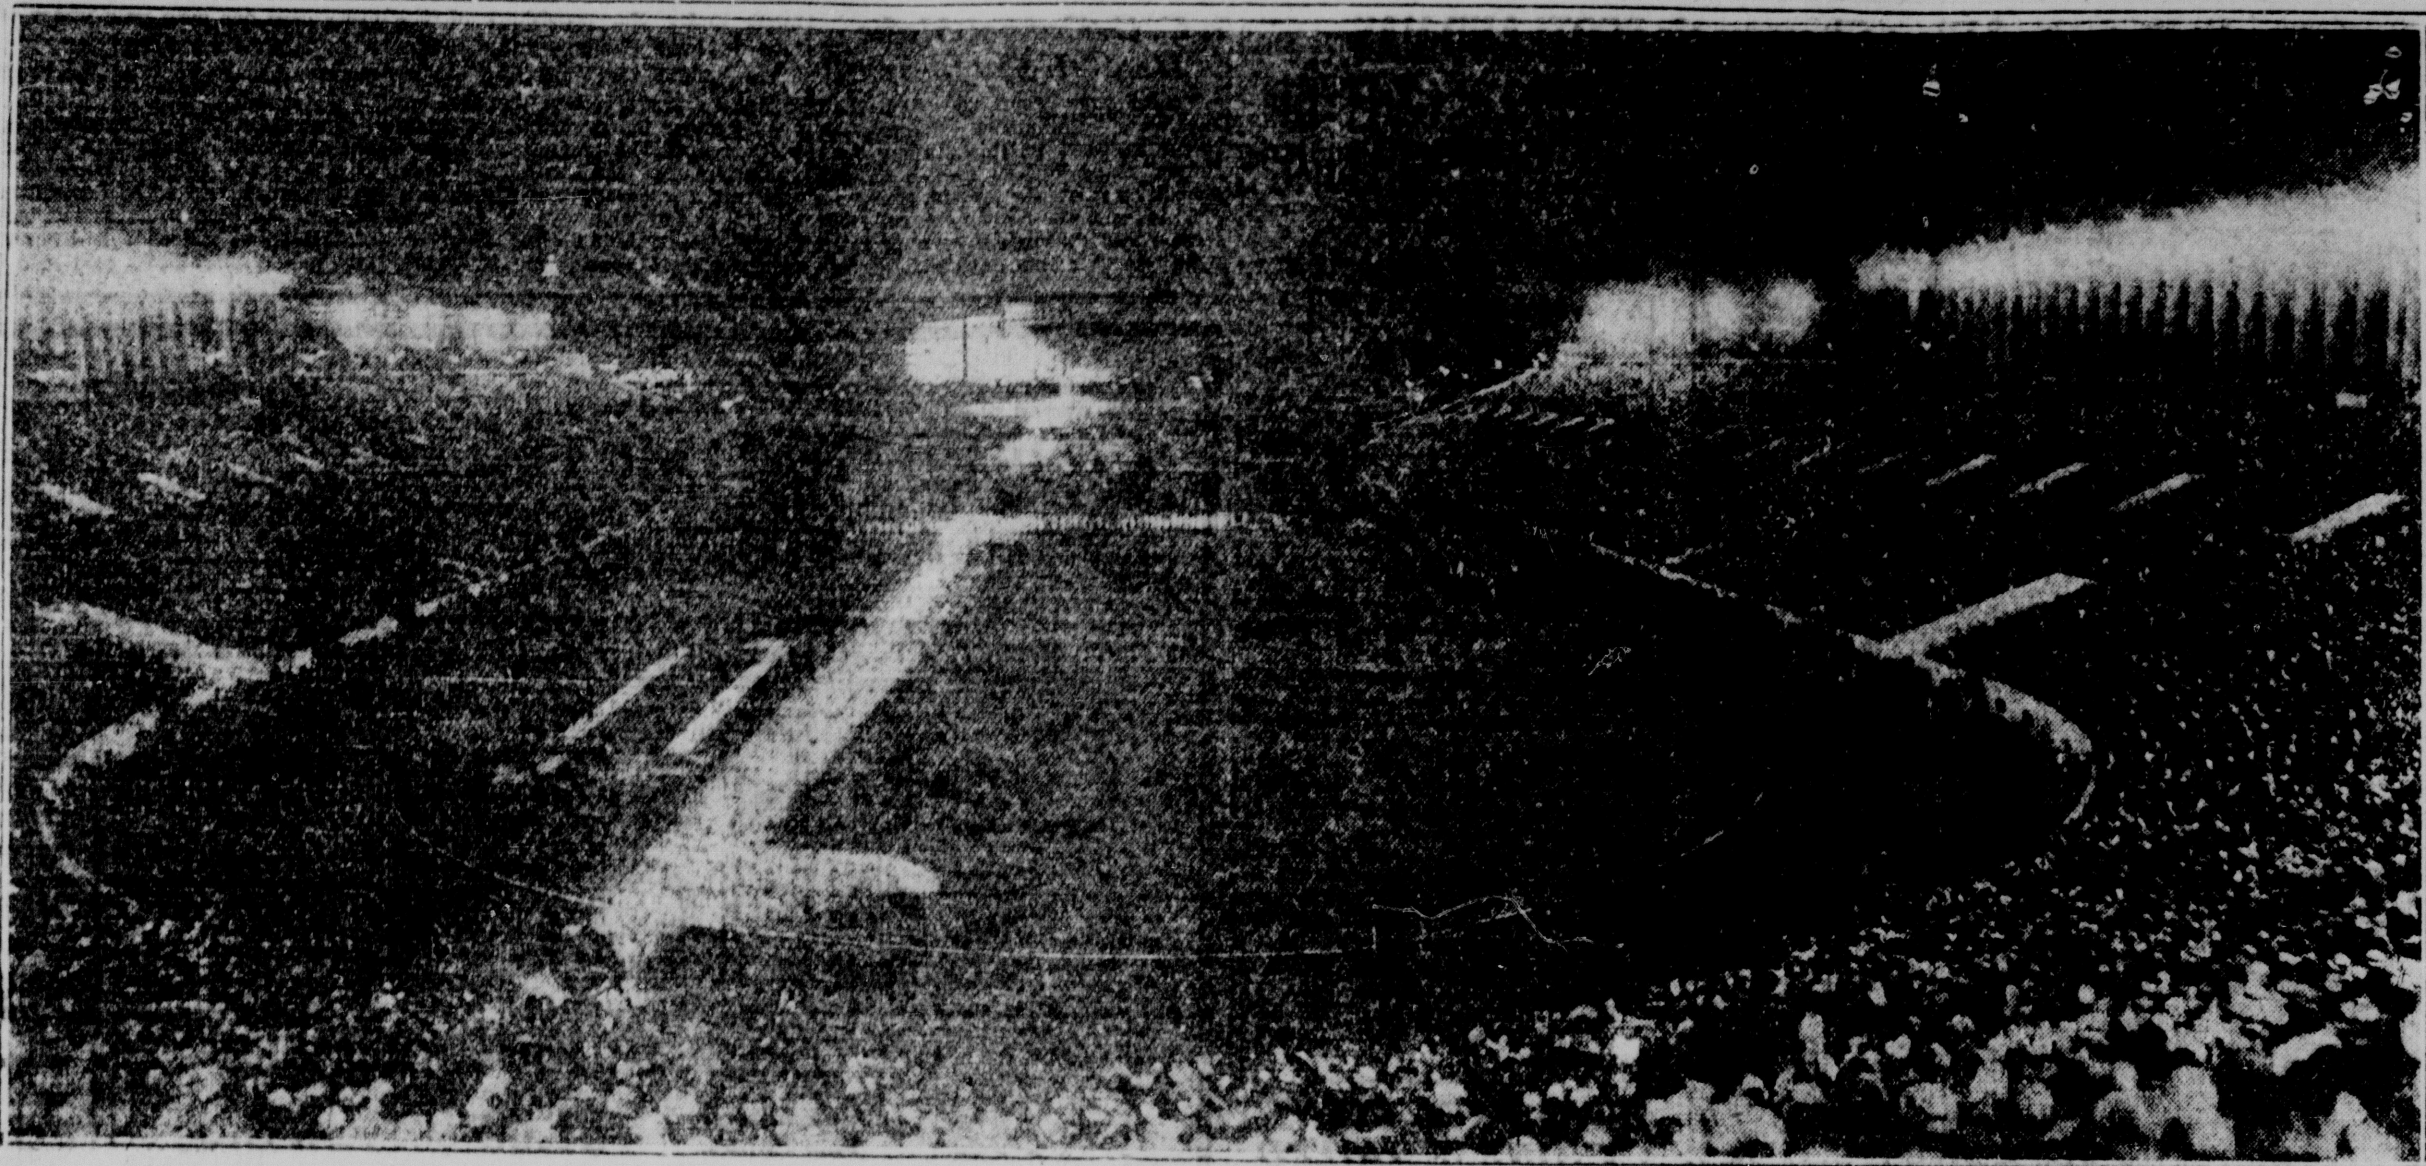

"As a matter of fact," Brown declared, "the only safe guests here are our birds. No matter how terrible the vulture, eagle or hawk, it will fly from a human being and only on rare occasions will turn and face the enemy. Any adult who will face or pursue one of these birds can nine times out of ten render it helpless.

"But of all the animals, birds and snakes here the real pet is our Cheeta, or hunting leopard. She is absolutely gentle and has never offered to be the least bit ugly to anyone. She has many friends, both among the staff here and among the visitors."

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

A PLEASANT VACATION

Dear Editor—Last summer you printed a letter I wrote you about our vacation trip—into the great northwest—including parts of Canada and the Dakotas—but first I want to send greetings to you, Mrs. Shaw and the rest of the bunch in the office. Our party this year included, Mrs. Robinson and Joe R. Miller. We believe in the "old slogan" "See American First." If one could only see the wonderful things we have seen on our travels and expect to see, life is well worth living. Last year we climbed Mt. Roosevelt which is seven thousand four hundred and twenty feet above sea level and a most wonderful sight to see, we had to stop and cool our brakes twice coming down. Then we climbed Mt. Moriah where Wild Bill Hickock and Calamity Jane are buried but this year we are going east and climb the Blue Ridge mountains, the Allegheny Mountains and the Shenandoah Mountains. We left home Aug. 3 at 5:30 and drove to Chillicothe, Ohio for our first stop a mileage of four hundred and fifty-nine miles, tired but happy, tonight we are sleeping under the brow of mountains and tomorrow we start climbing, a word about the weather when we passed through Minonk and El Paso we found they had quite a shower of rain. From there on until we hit Dayton, Ohio, it was extremely warm. From Dayton here weather was better and cooler. This is Friday morning and I'll take up my writing at this point. I am sitting in an easy chair; under a big sweet cherry tree beside the porch of an old homestead in eastern Pennsylvania. The view is beautiful, one can see a distance of at least twenty miles across the valley toward the city of York. On Sunday night we stopped at Chillicothe, Ohio, Monday we started and drove as far as Clarkburg, W. Va., and a very hot drive it was. We stopped for dinner and it there I was taken suddenly ill. The doctor said it was from the heat and too much cold drinks. It took only a minute for me to be the whole snow and quite a number offered to take me to their homes. (I wondered how many in Dixon would offer to do that for a perfect stranger) I finally accepted the invitation from a southern gentleman by the name of John Flynn and a friend in need he proved to be, he took us to his fine home and turned the whole house over to us. Also called a doctor for us. The doctor laughed and gave me the usual dose. We stayed with the gentleman until Tuesday morning and believe me I'll never forget their southern courtesy nor Mr. Flynn, after leaving Clarkburg we crossed the Allegheny Mountains and had some rare sights and then on thru the Shenandoah Mountains and touching the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia and W. Virginia, reaching Washington toward the middle of the afternoon. We saw the Capital and Government buildings, but were forced to disappoint several friends who were expecting us to call, as my wife was anxious to get where we could rest. So we did not stop long in Washington but beat it up to Baltimore, Maryland, and then on to York, Pa., where we stopped at the Pennsylvania Hotel for the night. After a good bath and a night's rest we started for York Springs and Joe Miller's old home and believe me they were glad to see all of us. The hospitality of the east and southern people is truly wonderful. We are resting today after going over the battlefield at Gettysburg yesterday. A sight I wouldn't miss for a good deal. Well as we were arriving at Gettysburg Thursday Mrs. Robinson suddenly exclaimed there is Harry Edwards and sure enough there was the Judge, and Oh! Boy were we glad to see each other. I'll say we were. Well we had a nice visit and on our way again. Tomorrow we have a big picnic in our honor at Joe Miller's home. Then we go to Harrisburg and see the capital and markets, and on Monday start again for the mountains and Zanesville, Ohio where we have relatives to visit. In going over the battlefield at Gettysburg we climbed the big Round Top and the little Round Top which are famous in world history. The last day or two I have visited among the hill billys and among the his and mountains. I have seen where they make the famous mountain dew and waked along paths made by men in lighting their mountain feuds. A rare treat indeed. The apple and fruit orchards here are also a great sight. There are hundreds of acres of peaches, apples, quinces, pears, plums, all hanging full of luscious fruit. Today (Sunday) our very good friends are having a reunion in honor of our selves especially Joe Miller, because it's his old home town. The second one we had.

Our trip has been a great success, our motor car has worked perfectly without the least trouble and tomorrow (Monday) we start back west. I have forgotten to tell you about the little city of Gore, W. Va. you all read where it was completely wiped out by fire. The fire started in the night, some time and the next morning we arrived in time to see part of it burn. It burned fifteen houses and ten million feet of lumber. I took several pictures of the town and among my pictures I expect to have some rare things to show for our trip.

Mr. Delp with whom we are staying tells us the deer are plentiful and are eating the corn from the fields and apples in the orchard. Gee I'd like to be here later. Monday morning we started west for Zanesville, Ohio, and a wonderful trip across the Allegheny Mountains just one mountain after another. Just east of Cumberland, Pa. a terrific forest fire was raging and about five miles from us, we stopped and watched it for a while. Today we visit with our friends and to-morrow start back to God's country and no place like home.

Respectfully your friend,
Freeman H. Robinson.

Hope to Regain Endurance Record

"Sure, we can beat their mark," say Loren W. Mendell, left, and R. B. or melt hard in the new sauce pan.

If he goes into the woodshed he is sure to pull the woodpile down upon his head. If he be sent up into the garret, you think for a while that he have settled the problem till you find what a boundless field for activity is at once opened, amid all the packages, boxes, bags, barrels and cast-off rubbish there. Old letters, newspapers, trunks of miscellaneous contents, are all rummaged and the very reign of chaos on old night is instituted. He sees endless capacities in all, and he is always hammering something, or knocking something apart, or sawing, or planing or drawing boxes and barrels in all directions to build cities or lay railroad tracks, till everybody's head aches quite down to the lower floor, and everybody declares that Joe must be kept out of the garret.

If you send him to school, in the hope to be rid of him for a few hours at least, he comes home noisier and more breezy than ever.

"He can dance like Jim Smith; he has learned to yodel like Cecil Brown; and Dan Briggs has shown him how to mew like a cat, an die enters the premises with a new 'whoopie' learned from Tom Evans. He feels large and valiant; he has learned that he is a boy, and has a general impression that he is growing immensely strong and knowing and despises more than ever the conventionalities of larlor life.

But rude and busy, and noisy as he is, and irksome as carpet rules and parlor ways are to him, he is still a social little creature and wants to be where the rest of the household are.

A room ever so well adapted for play, cannot charm him at the hour when the family is in reunion; he hears the voices from the other room, and his play room seems desolate. It may be warmed by a furnace and lighted with gas, but it is human warmth and light he shivers for; he yearns for the talk of the family, which he so imperfectly comprehends, and he longs to take his playthings clasped his hands; then, with the earnestness of unaffected childhood said to his mother:

"Mamma, if I get stuck, will you help me out?"

I could gaze the live-long day Upon children at their play; Yes, with pure and calm delight, I could watch from morn to night How they ride the mimic horse, Or stretching bridges drains across, Or building palaces of chips, Or in the streamlet sailing ships, A twig their mast, a ray their sail, While their own breath supplies the gale.

Pilot Battled With Rattle Snake While A Mile In The Air

Scott City, Kansas, Aug. 27.—(UP)—A battle between an airplane pilot and a rattlesnake 4,500 feet in the air was revealed today when H. (Happy) Wiggins, salesman flier, appeared for snake bite treatment.

The snake attacked Wiggins as he was piloting his plane nearly a mile high.

Before the pilot could grasp the snake and throw it overboard, it had bitten him in the hand and arm.

The rattler was believed to have crawled into the cockpit of the plane when it was in the hangar here. After Wiggins tossed out the snake he headed his plane toward a farmhouse eight miles distant. He landed so hastily he almost crashed. He obtained first aid from a rancher and was brought here.

The pilot was made violently ill by the bites but was expected to recover.

Say Cattle Prices Will Trend Upward

Washington, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The agricultural department said today that prospects favored a "material advance in cattle prices in the next twelve months."

A report issued through the bureau of agricultural economics said market supplies of cattle during the next five or six months probably would be about the same as a year ago but the supplies during the first half of 1931 were expected to be smaller than in 1930.

Demand for stockers and feeders this fall will not equal that of last year, and for that reason slaughter is likely to be somewhat greater, the report said.

"Prospects favor a continuation of low imports of both live cattle and calves and of fresh and frozen beef and veal. Consumer demands for beef will improve somewhat in the next six months with the advent of cooler weather, especially if there is an improvement in industrial activities. Prospects favor a material advance in cattle prices in the next twelve months."

HACK WILSON IS HOME RUN KING OF SENIOR LOOP

Man Whom McGraw Turned Out To Pasture Sets New League Mark

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Hack Wilson, the man of the New York Giants once forgot, is the new home run king of the National League.

The pudgy Cub outfielder ascended to his throne during the seventh inning of the Chicago-Pittsburgh game yesterday when he belted one into the right field bleachers at Wrigley Field for his forty-fourth circuit smash of the season, one more than the all-time record established a year ago by "Shuck" Klein of the Phillies.

The blow not only helped the Cubs defeat the Pirates, 7 to 5, and hike their lead over the Giants to five and one-half games in the National League pennant struggle, but tied Hack with Babe Ruth in the fight for home run honors of the major leagues for 1930.

Twenty-eight of Wilson's homers this season have been made at Wrigley Field with 16 on foreign fields. He has collected at least five from pitchers of each club in the circuit, although Boston hurlers have been the most liberal, tossing him eight balls that never came back. His best days of the year were against the Philadelphia and Boston. On July 26 at Philadelphia, he smacked out three homers in one game, in a doubleheader against the Braves here August 10, he gathered three more.

All told, he has batted in 30 runners besides himself with his pokes over fences and over walls.

Wilson, a ponderous fellow despite his five and one-half foot height, broke into the majors in 1923 when he joined the Giants. Although he batted fairly well, he was released to the Toledo club of the American Association. There he was a sensation with a .343 batting average but the Giants forgot him and the Cubs grabbed him via the draft in 1926. His first year with the Cubs found him in front of the growing home run brigade with 21 four base blows. The next year he hit 30 and in 1928 he batted out 31 to tie for first place in the home run race. While Klein established his National League record last year with 45, Wilson banged out 39.

CHICAGO.—(UP)—British Empire boxers made an almost clean sweep of boxing bouts against Chicago bouts against Chicago amateurs in a team meet staged at Medinah Athletic Club for the entertainment of the British Empire-United States track teams.

The British team, including winners in the recent Empire meet at Hamilton, Ont., won four of the five bouts, with Carl Ogren, Golden Gloves champion defeating Ernie Pierce of South Africa in the 160-pound class for the lone American triumph.

CHICAGO.—(UP)—Dr. Edwin J. Norton who has been associated with the Loyola University coaching staff since 1927, has been named head football coach for the 1930 season. Norton succeeds Daniel J. Lamont, who resigned to assist Jimmy Phelan at Washington University.

O. J. Larsen, former Notre Dame All-American center; Larry Flynn, who played with Norton at Loyola; and Bob Burke, star half-back on the 1929 Loyola team, were named by Norton as his assistants.

NEW YORK.—(UP)—Tony Canzoneri, lightweight contender, has little to show for a ten-round decision over Goldie Hess, California boxer, except a slight gash over his right eye, and perhaps a regret that he hadn't done better.

Canzoneri, who is scheduled to box Al Singer, lightweight champion, in November, kept the young Californian entirely at his mercy at Queensboro Stadium last night but showed little ability. He weighed 132, Hess scaled 135.

TORONTO.—(UP)—Approximately 270 swimmers representing America, Canada, England and Germany were to plunge into Lake Ontario here today in the annual Canadian National exhibition men's 15-mile marathon swim.

The race will be postponed if the temperature of the water is lower than 50 degrees.

Ernst Vierkotter, former German baker-boy and winner of the 1927 marathon, and George Young, Toronto youth who won the 1927 Catalina Island swim, are favorites.

Baseball Gossip

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago's baseball fans are about ready to look haughtily in the direction of New York and ask "who is this fellow Ruth?" for Hack Wilson, hefty home-run hitter of the Cubs, has a new National League record in the Ruthian specialty and has drawn up on even terms with the great Babe in this year's competition at belting four baggers.

Hack's forty-fourth home run put a finishing touch on the Cubs' 7 to 5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday but did not play a very important part in the triumph which set the Cubs 5½ games ahead of the New York Giants who had a day of rest before the start of their series with Brooklyn. Wilson did, however, contribute a single in the fifth, two innings before, which added greatly in putting the game safely away as the Cubs scored five runs. This one frame decided an otherwise close game with Larry French closing a bit the better of Fred Blake.

The St. Louis Cardinals continued their advance in the only other National League game, defeating Cincinnati 3 to 1, for their seventh successive victory. The Cards had a bit of trouble when the Reds put two men on base with none out in the ninth, but Wild Bill Hallahan, who had pitched a fine game, managed to get out of the hole. The victory left St. Louis only a half game behind the third place Brooklyn Robins with some prospects of improving their position as they continue against the Reds today while Brooklyn tackles the Giants.

Only one game was on schedule for the American League yesterday and by winning it from Washington 10 to 9, the Philadelphia Athletics again were in a fairly safe place, 7½ games in the lead.

Important Note To Amateur Golfers

Atlanta, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Note to amateurs:

R. T. Jones, Jr., still retains the magic touch which has won him three major gold titles this year.

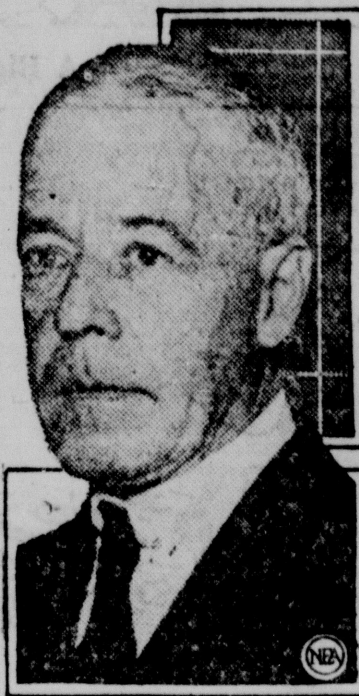

Practicing for the National Amateur at Merion next Monday Bobby went over a new nine hole layout at Eastlake, his home course, with his father yesterday. He shot the first hole in an eagle three and then had seven pars in a row. Monday he chalked up a 67, five below par.

Publisher Vanishes From Yacht

Private and government boats and aircraft were pressed into the search for Van Lear Black, right, wealthy Baltimore publisher and aviation enthusiast, who mysteriously disappeared from his yacht Sabalo, pictured above, off the Jersey coast. He was last seen sitting on the railing of the boat and it was believed that he fell overboard in a heavy swell. Black had flown more than 125,000 miles in all parts of the world as a passenger in his own and other planes.

TRACK STARS OF UNITED STATES, BRITAIN READY

Meeting Second Only To Olympiad Will Be Held This Eve

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(UP)—Track fans from all sections of the country gathered here today for the "Little Olympics"—a dual track and field meet between the British Empire and the United States—to be contested tonight at Soldier Field.

The meet is the first international track and field competition held in the United States since the 1903 Olympic games at St. Louis and has attracted widespread interest. More than 25,000 tickets have been sold and with Chicago evidencing keen interest, the backers were hopeful that Soldier Field, which already holds the world record for attendance at prize fights and football games, will house a record track and field crowd tonight.

The British Empire-United States meet is second only to the Olympic games in athletic importance and quality of competition and a program which carries all the color and pageantry of an Olympiad has been arranged for the meet.

Hoover Represented
Assistant Secretary of State William P. Castle, Jr., representing President Hoover, will open the meet formally with an address of welcome to the visiting athletes. Following his talk, the athletes, led by an American Legion bugle and drum corps will parade around the track and the flags of the two countries. Then buglers, stationed on the highest point of the colonnades rising above the brilliantly lighted stadium, will trumpet the call for the opening event and competition will begin.

Fourteen events and a special 100-yard exhibition dash, which will not count in the scoring, are included on the program. All track events will be contested as relays and on the field events will be decided on the basis of team scores. Best performances of all competitors being totaled to decide the winner.

Under the international scoring system used in these meets one point is awarded for first place and only first places count in the scoring. With fourteen events on the program, eight first places are needed for victory.

The United States is expected to sweep the six field events—the high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, javelin, and hammer throw—but Britain's superiority in the track events gives the visitors an even chance of scoring their first victory in 10 years of competition. The United States has won four of the previous meets, with the first ending in a tie.

National Doubles Begin In Earnest

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The men's national doubles tennis championship tourney will get down to brass tacks here at Longwood today when eight seeded teams clash in the quarter finals round.

George Lott and Johnny Doeg, the defending champions, expected to encounter some of the stiffest opposition of their careers in Keith Gledhill and Ellsworth Vines, the California youngsters.

Johnny VanRyn and Wilmer Allison, Davis Cup doubles players were down to clash with Sydney Wood and Frank Shields, two New York youths

York Negro middleweight, hit the canvas twice for counts of seven and eight, apparently from light blows.

Fans who had shouted "fake" applauded the referee who took the center of the ring and explained that the fighters had been in conversation four of the ten rounds and were not giving their best efforts.

"This is your round."

As a result of the decision both fighters are automatically suspended and their purses withheld.

Weather Prevents Cup Trial Events

Newport, R. I., Aug. 27.—(UP)—Freak weather, foul weather, flat calms and threats of storms have irritated the Newport Yacht Club's race selection committee for five days and are now beginning to eat into the war chest for hire of tugs and smaller craft which daily have gone out into the ocean only to return with "no race" signals flying from their masts.

Since Thursday, the last day of good racing weather, the committee has scanned the sky and hoped for a good light breeze. Tug boats alone are costing these millionaires about a thousand dollars a day. It is expensive scumming.

The committee will attempt once more to send the big boats out today, unless a hurricane that was reported yesterday to be dashing northward interferes with the plans.

SCIENTISTS MAY LET US EAT THE THINGS WE LIKE

Colgate U. Will Investigate New Plan Of Diet This Year

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

Hamilton, N. Y., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Here is unusual scientific news for those who enjoy eating.

Scientists at Colgate University this fall are going to digress from the usual routine of finding out what is good for a person to eat, and see whether there may be direct benefit from eating according to what a person likes.

Colgate will analyze the benefits of flavor, savorness and eye-filling appearance.

This work will be done in the department of psychology under direction of Dr. Donald A. Laird. The plans are announced in the Colgate Lab Log, which says:

"There has been a tendency in diet work for the past decade to treat man as a purely chemical machine working on calories, vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates, etc. Taste, odor and appearance of food have been largely neglected, and it is these which will occupy most of our attention."

"Coming down to more practical matters we may discover that properly selected flavors and odors, together with attractive appearance offer a harassed wife the surest means of turning a moody husband into a sparkling table conversationalist."

HUNT YOUNG FIREBUG

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26.—(UP)—A small boy, believed to be possessed of a fiendish desire to set fire to buildings, was sought by police today in connection with three incendiary blazes in this downtown business district here last night. The youth was seen to run from one of the fires. Police attempted to catch him but he eluded their efforts.

Charles Brown, 9, was taken into custody but was released after being questioned.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

CONGRESS PRAISED
The recent session of Congress has given conservation generally far more support than any previous session," states Mr. Willoughby Walling, Chairman of the Executive Board of the Izaak Walton League. In a special report of the League's national officers and directors.

"The Seventy-First Congress has not only made considerably larger appropriations," he continues, "for the extension and protection of our forests, our national parks, and our federal fisheries and migratory bird work, but it has launched a number of new conservation programs and adopted new conservation principles of vast, far-reaching importance to the welfare of the American people. In this outstanding program the organized strength of the League, and the work it has done during the past eight years to mold proper public conservation sentiment, has had a very definite and prominent part."

DROUGHT-STRICKEN FARMERS ASK WORK ON ROAD PROJECTS

Threaten Violence, Fire On Work Tents; Militia Called Out

Lonoke, Ark., Aug. 27.—(AP)—A detail of Arkansas National Guardsmen today patrolled the labor camp of a highway construction company near here today after irate drought-stricken farmers threatened reprisals against employment of out-of-country and Negro labor.

Tents of a camp crew were fired upon Monday night by unidentified gunmen.

The detachment under command of Captain Morris Moore was made up of three non-commissioned officers and ten enlisted men and was armed with rifles, pistols and tear gas bombs.

Monday, Lonoke county farmers congregated here to seek employment on the construction of a state highway. Constructing company field bosses announced only a limited number of jobs were available since the work required experienced men. The farmers demanded that county labor should be used in state road projects in their county.

A guard was placed about the construction company Monday night, and engaged in an exchange of shots with ambushed gunmen. The shots fired into the tents were all high, and officials believe they were intended to frighten off the Negro laborers.

At the request last night of the sheriff and a circuit judge representatives of Governor Farnell—who is vacationing in Northwest Arkansas—dispatched the guardsmen.

Foreigners Begin Evacuating Shanghai

Shanghai, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Because of the precarious condition at Changsha, Hunan province capital, threatened by 5,000 Communists, all foreign women and children began evacuating today toward Hankow.

The Nationalist military authorities at Hankow reported the renewed Communist menace in Hunan had caused President Chiang Kai-Shek to order 20,000 soldiers withdrawn from Shantung province for duty against the Reds.

KILLED TWO WOMEN

Cambridge, Md., Aug. 26.—(UP)—Gorman Boozie, 40, wealthy contractor surrendered to police here today and confessed killing his wife, Mrs. Nettie Boozie and her friend, Mrs. Leon Wilson, with whom Mrs. Boozie was at home, and wounding his 15-month-old daughter, Norma.

Boozie admitted firing four shots from a double barreled shotgun through the window into the Wilson dining room last night.

Boozie and his wife had quarreled recently when he charged his wife with spending too much time at church, and she had left him.

GRAND ARMY VETS IN PARADE TODAY IN CINCINNATI, O.

A Thousand Members of The Union Army Still Want To March

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The time-strafed ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic, faltering but indomitable, swung into parade once more today.

Although wearied by advancing years, their steps lagging and backs bent, a thousand survivors of the Union's army of '65 proudly insisted they would march the entire distance. Automobiles were assigned another 1,000, and it was estimated 500 more, to feble even to ride, would stand by to wave greetings.

The parade down gaily and elaborately decorated streets was the climax of the 64th annual encampment of the G. A. R.

Preparations were taken to be in readiness to care for those upon whom the burden was to great. Red Cross and relief stations were established all along the route to care for those "failing by the way-side" from weariness or illness. Boy scouts stood by to assist.

The G. A. R. parade is strictly an affair of the veterans. None of the affiliated organizations with the exception of the sons of union veterans, has any part, the sons serving only as escorts.

THAT'S WHY THEY GOT THERE... SO QUICKLY

A MEXICAN REVOLUTION LEFT HIM BROKE. JUST A FEW YEARS LATER HE WAS A HIGH-SALARIED MOVIE STAR.

FAST SUCCESS STORY NO. 9

RAMON NOVARRO

His Spanish forebears conquered Mexico... won the country in ten brief years. But Ramon alone conquered America, conquered Europe, and all points east... in scarcely more than a camera's flicker. For Ramon gave the world a thrill!

And that's the tale of another young conqueror, OLD GOLD cigarettes. New England surrendered in just two months. "You win, OLD GOLD!" said the Middle West. From coast-to-coast the victory spread. And OLD GOLD in just one year became the country's fastest growing cigarette. OLD GOLD, like Novarro, offered the world a brand new thrill. Finer tobaccos gave a mellower taste. Better tobaccos ended throat-scratch.

Wingless Airship Built in Secret

Here's the heavier-than-air, all-metal ship which is reported actually to have flown in private tests off Mamaroneck, N. Y. Secretly built aboard a barge by six men who have lived the lives of hermits during its construction, the revolutionary craft, which is said to operate on the same principle as the Flettner rotor ship, has been designed to eclipse the present type of flying machine. Note the spool-like rotor on the right side of the ship. It adapts, for flying purposes, the phenomenon of changing the direction of the air pressure and currents. A motor in the nose of the craft supplies traction through a three-bladed propeller. Except for the absence of wings, the machine resembles a seaplane.

OBITUARY

She suffered a long and serious illness of over nine weeks duration, during which in the hopes of saving her life, her right limb was amputated, but it proved unavailing and her spirit passed quietly away. She was the daughter of Daniel and Phoebe Grimes, of early pioneers of Dixon township. She was united in marriage with Mr. Sylvester Heckman, March 7th 1895 and to this union were born 8 children, 4 boys and 4 girls. Her husband preceded her in death Feb. 18th 1926, also three daughters have preceded her. Emma Irene in 1925, Harriet Fay in 1926 and Mrs. Lucille Siden in 1929. There remain of the immediate family to mourn the loss of a loving mother, one daughter, Mrs. Lena May Wasson of Amboy, four sons, Lester Earl of White, South Dakota, Leonard Edward of Ashton, Harold Sylvester of Amboy, and Paul Sylvester of Amboy; also five grandchildren together with other relatives and many friends.

She was a faithful member of the First Congregational Church of Amboy. Funeral services were held at the Congregational church in Amboy Monday afternoon Aug. 25th at half past two o'clock conducted by Rev. M. E. Galloway and interment was made in Prairie Repose cemetery. The pall bearers were: Ed Gray, Will Green, Emer Purdy, Will Dahlner, Herman Myers and George Meurer.
